Defense opens arguments in Moore trial

By CAROLE LANGE

Opening arguments for the criminal murder trial of Christopher Moore, 23, charged with the rape and murder of Pass Christian teacher Irene Hoffman, began late Wednesday afternoon.

proximately 3:15 p.m. Wednesday after the testimony of a five-year-old child

W.F. "Bill" Hoffman, husband of the slain woman, led the state of state work. When questioned by Colingo, Hoffman replied that his wife had taken a shower the morning of the murder.

Quick thinking officer praised Wednesday for averting more tragedy

Bay St. Louis patrolman Alvin Favre was credited Wednesday with averting more injuries in an accident at U. S. Highway 90 and Dunbar Avenue early Wednesday morning which left two small girls, age six and 11 in critical condition.

The children were injured when a car driven by Leon Duvall of Biloxi reportedly failed to stop for a signal at the intersection striking the two girls and narrowly missing other children and Patrolman Favre.

The children were on their way to North Bay Elementary when the accident happened at approximately 7:45 a.m.

the path of the oncoming Duvall vehicle when Duvall began a skid some 60 feet before the intersection. Witnesses said Favre scooped and pushed the children in his reach out of the path of the car while exposing his own self to the risk of being struck. He was in fact "brushed" by the Duvall vehicle.

Witnesses on the scene reportedly saw Duvall run other red lights before coming to the Bay St. Louis intersection.

Duvall told police he did not see the red light or the flashing blue light of the Bay Police car used to caution motorists of the school crossing, according to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Billy Carmonette.

Ambulance transferred children to Gulfport hospital. As shaken by the accident by his superior, for his quick thinking

Mike Terry, a tenth grade student at Bay Senior High School, is rapidly developing a new, vivid style of futuristically themed graphic art presentation.

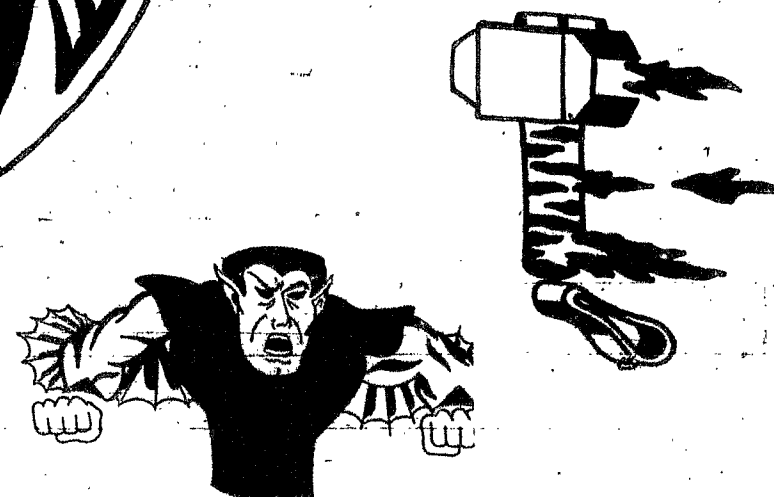

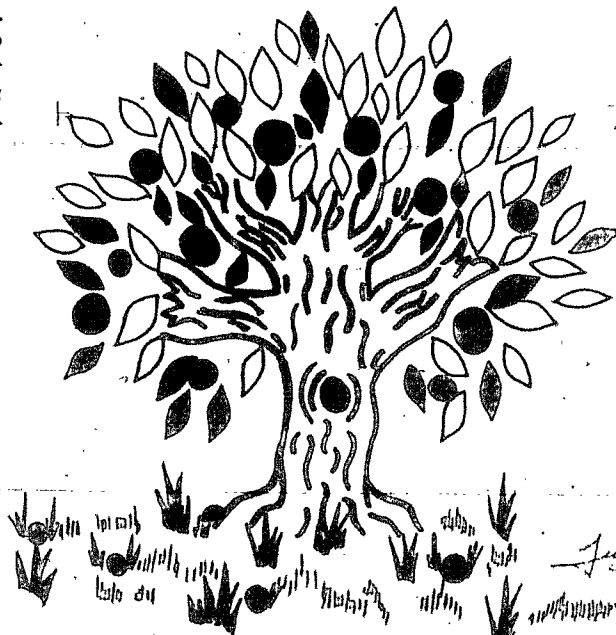

Working only with standard lead pencils, and red and black felt-tip pens, Terry has produced a considerable volume of work over the last few years.

Asked this week when he started to draw, the teenager said, "No particular time, it just seems that I have always been able to turn out this type of picture."

A "B" student, Terry hopes to land a slot in the Tiger basketball squad. Working after school for Gulfside Assembly, the young artist says his other main interest is music with a favoring nod being granted to "Soul". Terry, who was nicknamed "Tiger" by his mother, Mrs. Mary Terry, lives with his mother, three brothers, and two sisters, at 1107 Rue De Lasalle, Waveland.

Back when Mississippi Test Facility was in the rocket game, the NASA crews at Cape Canaveral were shooting the assembled Saturn V-Apollo moon trip jobs off like they were going out of style (a factor that later proved to be true). On the night Apollo 15 was "in the groove" for a return to earth splash down the following morning, the moon came up from the direction of Biloxi big, round, and yellow. Couple from Waveland were walking the beach by the Garfield-Ladner Memorial Pier talking about the miracles of interplanetary travel and the returning moon rocket when, looking at the huge "disc in the sky," the husband softly said "My God, they're towing it back with them!"

Looking at a copy of the intended general election ballot, one of our more prominent local elected officials was heard in the county courthouse this week to remark, "I'm all in favor of the 18-year old vote. There'll never be another time in life when these kids know all the answers."

Pipes went out at home the other day, and we knew we were in trouble when the plumber drove up in a new Cadillac truck.

Bay Rotary held its regular session earlier this month. In explaining his position in business, one member reported, "I really don't mind the rat race, but I could do with a little more cheese."

Friend of ours from Shoreline Park way drove home Monday night with a smudge of red on his forehead. "Lipstick!" rasped his wife, who we all know is not kindly disposed to that sort of thing.

"No," our friend responded. "It's blood. I had an accident on the way home and cracked my head on the steering wheel." The wife brightened. "Lucky for you," she said.

One of the Sea Coast Echo's younger readers wanted to claim the "Pooch of the Week" from the Waveland Animal Shelter. Homeside enquiries as to the possibilities left little hope for the fulfillment of his dream.

He quizzed his friend. "Maybe you don't use the right strategy," the friend, replied. "Strategy, what's strategy?" the prospective P.O.T.W. owner asked.

"Don't ask for the dog. Ask for a baby brother. THEN you'll get the dog!" He did, and he did.

Mrs. Robert "dresses" wedding portrait

Waveland artist proves

Picture "dressing" gives 3-D effect

The First Lady of Louisiana, Mrs. Edwin Edwards, has five "dressed and decorated" pictures, hung in shadow boxes, incorporated into the decor of the Presidential Suite, inside the Governor's Mansion in Baton Rouge. Extensively exhibited in such locations as The Edgewater Plaza, and the windows of D.H. Holmes on Canal, in New Orleans, these art forms are the product of Mrs. Kearny Quinn Robert of Waveland. Other examples of her talent hang in the clubroom of Le Petit Salon, St. Peter's Street, New Orleans, and the offices of the Louisiana Council for Music and the Performing Arts. Additionally, more than 50 of her works serve to decorate the walls of her home at 123 Farrar.

Among the prints "dressed and framed" by Mrs. Robert are reproductions of the Godey Ladies; The Prayer at Valley Forge (George Washington); The Super Bowl Queen (1974); "Father Pete," the priest of the New Orleans fire and police departments; and portraits of babies and brides.

The artist's entry into the field of picture decoration followed an event that shook many people's life pattern, particularly in Waveland.

Hurricane Camille pumped nearly five feet of murky water inside the Farrar Street residence, located just half a block back from the beach. As in practically every other home short of the railroad embankment, the storm rearranged the furniture (putting most of it into the swimming pool), took out the windows and doors, and gutted walls, fixtures, and fittings.

After fishing the furniture out of the pool, their clothes out of the few remaining trees, and undertaking the more obvious restoration process to resume habitat, Mrs. Robert, and her husband, Kearny, experienced a good measure of "Camille Blues."

The cure that worked for Mrs. Robert came from the pages of a 100th Anniversary Issue of McCall's Needlework Magazine, on sale a short time later. The magazine, to commemorate the anniversary, offered its readers a portfolio of Godey Ladies. An accompanying article described how these prints could be "dressed and decorated."

Mrs. Robert, who always enjoyed needlework, though unbeknownst to her at that time, had, in sending for the folio, taken the first step towards becoming an "authority" in the tricky art.

From Godey prints, Mrs. Robert tackled magazine covers, advertising layouts, classics, cartoon reproductions, and portraits.

"I always liked dressing dolls as a child, and now I enjoy dressing them for my granddaughter," the artist said this week.

She said there was a certain kinship to dressing dolls and dressing pictures, although with good portraits, great skill is required to avoid damaging the print when cutting into its surface.

In speaking of her most recent work, (one that is still uncompleted), the dressing of her daughter's wedding picture, Mrs. Robert said, "It took a lot of courage to cut into that portrait, and believe me I prayed."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert, from New Orleans, though since his retirement permanent residents in Waveland, have two children, a son, Kearny Robert, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. C. Bryan Frater.

Child's testimony inadmissible

Defense opens arguments in Moore trial

By CAROLE LANGE

Opening arguments for the defense began late Wednesday afternoon in the criminal murder trial of Christopher Alvin Moore, 23, charged with the April 29 rape and murder of Pascagoula school teacher Irene Hoffman, 29. The state rested its case at approximately 3:15 p.m. Wednesday after the testimony of a five-year-old child was ruled inadmissible by presiding Judge J. Ruble Griffin.

In making the ruling, Judge Griffin said in his opinion the child was intelligent, but added that he felt the child did not understand exactly what was expected of him.

W.F. "Bill" Hoffman, husband of the slain woman, led the state of state witnesses Wednesday afternoon. He testified as to the daily routine of the couple, upon waking in the morning.

Hoffman told Jackson County Asst. District Attorney Joe Colingo that it was normal for his wife to rise first, make coffee, shower, then dress for work.

When questioned by Colingo, Hoffman replied that his wife had taken a shower the morning of the murder.

Hoffman also told Colingo that the couple was in the habit of raising the windows in their home prior to leaving for work in the morning. He said on the morning of the murder, he had raised three of the four windows in the den, the room where Mrs. Hoffman's bound and gagged body was later discovered. He said he did not raise a fourth window in the room as the screen was broken and had been removed. He added that all of the window screens, with that exception, were intact.

In testimony Tuesday by Dr. Dan Dore, chief of pathology at Singing River Hospital in Pascagoula, it was brought out that vaginal examinations he made on Mrs. Hoffman indicated evidence of semen in the vaginal canal.

When questioned Wednesday, Hoffman admitted, with some embarrassment that he and his wife had intercourse the Sunday afternoon prior to his wife's death Tuesday.

Dr. Dore had testified the previous day that it could not be determined "with any certainty" when the semen was deposited in Mrs. Hoffman.

When asked by defense attorney Andrew Gambrell whether there was an indication of trauma, or injury, to Mrs. Hoffman, he replied that there was not. Dr. Dore answered a quiet "no" when Gambrell asked if Mrs. Hoffman had been the victim of forceful sexual intercourse.

Enlarged photographs of the latent fingerprint lifted from the window screen of the den of the Hoffman home were identified by FBI agent Charles Richardson, of Washington, D. C. as matching that taken from the middle finger of Moore's left hand. Richardson said there were seven or eight similarities between the two prints.

FBI special agent John W. Hicks identified hair samples combed from Mrs. Hoffman as "identical" to that taken from Moore's stomach area. When questioned by the defense, he said the tests for hair samples are not as conclusive as those for fingerprints and added that although it is possible, in most cases, identical hair samples could not be taken from two different people. Hicks said that the hair samples were definitely Negroid rather than Caucasian.

A description of the Hoffman home, following the murder was given during the testimony of Det. J. W. Johnson, chief of Criminal Investigation of the Pascagoula Police Department.

Johnson said when he entered the Hoffman home, through the carport entrance, "there were two white ladies shoes on the floor to the right of the entrance, blood stains on the floor on the left, the odor of urine, and a bar stool was overturned in the area between the kitchen and the den."

During his investigation, Johnson said he went into the back yard and saw a footprint by the fence in the eastern-most corner of the yard. On the other side of the fence, Johnson said the area was grassy and a footprint could not be seen. At that time, while standing outside the fence, Johnson said he saw a small boy whom he talked to and walked with approximately 60 feet back into the Hoffman's back yard.

Five black and white photographs depicting various outside and inside angles of the Hoffman home were introduced into evidence. One of the photographs showed the street which ran alongside the Hoffman home and was one of two entrances to Chateau Lin apartments where Moore lived in Apartment 24.

The trial opened Tuesday afternoon following a lengthy jury selection Monday and Tuesday morning. Of the 43 jurors called, four women and eight men were chosen to sit on the all-white panel. The state exercised all of its 12 challenges while the defense exercised 11 challenges during the jury selection.

Jackson County prosecutor Glenn Barlow is assisting Colingo in presenting the state's case and Kenneth E. Middleton, of Hattiesburg, and consulting attorney Theodore Tawney, of Gulfport, are assisting Gambrell.

Quick thinking officer praised Wednesday for averting more tragedy

Bay St. Louis patrolman Alvin Favre was credited Wednesday with averting more injuries in an accident at U. S. Highway 90 and Dunbar Avenue early Wednesday morning which left two small girls, age six and 11 in critical condition.

The children were injured when a car driven by Leon Duvall of Biloxi reportedly failed to stop for a signal at the intersection striking the two girls and narrowly missing other children and Patrolman Favre.

The children were on their way to North Bay Elementary when the accident happened at approximately 7:45 a.m.

Those listed in critical condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital are Shentell Gorman, 6, daughter of Mrs. Jean Gorman, 509 Sycamore Street, and Tanya Saucier, 11, daughter of Mrs. Betty Price, 408 Sycamore Street. A third child, reportedly knocked down in the accident, has not been identified.

The Gorman and Saucier children were reportedly knocked across the intersection and over the hood of another car driven by Joyce Warner of Lakewood Drive after being struck by Duvall.

Witnesses said Duvall was traveling east on U. S. 90 when he ran through the school crossing, striking the Warner vehicle which was stopped for the light on Dunbar.

Investigating officer Herschell Ladner of the Mississippi Highway Patrol said Duvall had been charged with driving while under the influence (DUI), reckless driving, and running a red light and was confined in Hancock County Jail under $20,000 bond. A hearing before Justice of the Peace Donald Carr has been scheduled for Monday evening.

Witnesses said Favre, a patrolman since 1965, was on duty at the intersection with fellow officer Harris Boudreaux, when the Duvall vehicle "appeared out of nowhere."

Favre, who was monitoring the east bound traffic on U. S. 90, reportedly tried to gather a group of children out of the path of the oncoming Duvall vehicle when Duvall began a skid some 90 feet before the intersection. Witnesses said Favre scooped and pushed the children in his reach out of the path of the car while exposing his own self to the risk of being struck. He was in fact "brushed" by the Duvall vehicle.

Witnesses on the scene reportedly saw Duvall run other red lights before coming to the Bay St. Louis intersection.

Duvall told police he did not see the red light or the flashing blue light of the Bay Police car used to caution motorists of the school crossing, according to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Billy Carbonette.

Mobile Medic Ambulance transported the children to Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Favre, who was shaken by the accident, was praised by his superior, Chief Carbonette, for his quick thinking in the situation.

"Officer Favre in his dedication to the children in his charge, clearly risked his own life this morning, Carbonette said Wednesday.

"If it had not been for his quick action it is almost certain that more children would have been hurt."

City employees holding checks

Garnishment writ served on city

By DAN BARBER

A writ of garnishment forcing the city of Bay St. Louis to refrain from issuing checks on any city funds was unexpectedly served by Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner Friday on behalf of U.S. District Court Clerk Robert O. Thomas of Biloxi.

The writ of garnishment was filed against the city by Pascagoula attorneys Cumbest & Cumbest on behalf of their client Jimmy Ray Warner who received a judgment of $375,000 against the city last Aug. 26 in connection with a diving accident from a city pier July 4, 1969.

Warner, through his mother, filed a

$2 million damage suit against the city charging the city with negligence in the operation of the pier. The accident left the defendant, then a 15-year-old, paralyzed from the neck down.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver said Wednesday that the writ of garnishment prohibits the city from issuing warrants from any city funds for any matter including payroll, interest on indebtedness, or any outstanding bills.

A similar mandamus issued to banks and lending institutions holding city funds, prohibits those agencies from honoring any checks or warrants issued by the city.

Attorney Walter James Phillips said the city would seek to overturn the writ in a hearing Thursday before U.S. District Court Judge Walter Nixon in Biloxi.

Phillips said the city would file a motion to have the garnishment writ set aside until the city has had time to have its appeal to the judgement heard.

Bay St. Louis Tax Commissioner Clarence Ladner said Wednesday that the city was also served with a list of interrogatories stipulating the city list its total amount of funds in hand, the name of any and all depositors for any city funds, and the amount of deposits and any property held by the city of Bay St. Louis.

Ladner said the council had not yet discussed how the city would make payment on the $375,000 if the judgement were upheld by the appeals court.

"Of course we are optimistic that the judgement will be reversed," Ladner said.

Ladner said the city had no incumbent funds that could be used for payment of the suit judgement since all funds were currently earmarked.

The city did not have liability insurance at the time of the accident, Ladner said, which was under another administration.

"However, we do have liability insurance at this time," Ladner added.

Deadline approaching for CHAMPUS claims

Beneficiaries of the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS) and the counterpart (CHAMP-VA) are advised that December 31, 1975 is the deadline for filing claims for medical care, services and supplies provided during 1974 (Jan 1-Dec 31).

A similar deadline will be in effect in the future. It will be the last day of the calendar year following the year in which the services and supplies were received. For example, claims for services and supplies received during 1975 (Jan 1-Dec 31) will have to be sent in no later than Dec. 31, 1976.

Remember to have the receipt for prescription drugs filled out completely, to show the name of the person for whom the medicine is, the address of that person, the prescription number and the cost of the drug including the tax and the date the drug was received. This is a must before the receipts may be mailed in to the Miss. Medical Association.

Income Questionnaire cards will arrive with the November pension and DIC (Dependency Income Compensation) checks. They must be filled out and returned before January 1, 1976 or payment will be automatically terminated. To receive credit for unusual medical expenditures during the year bring in your paid receipts for all unreimbursed medical and drug expenses, plus the amount paid in premium for all Health and Hospital Insurance Policies. You must also know how much income you had from all sources during the year and the amount of social security that you are drawing, separately from your spouse, and the anticipated amount you will draw in the next calendar year. Since there was a raise in social security benefits in August, be sure you know the amount for each person before the raise went into effect.

All recipients of these cards must fill out the card. This includes those over 72 years of age who normally do not receive a card. Those who do receive a card and are under 72 must fill out an income statement (V.A. Form 21-5897) in every case. Those over 72 who do not receive a card but have had a change in income or in the number of dependents during the year must also fill out an Income Questionnaire card, even though they do not receive one in the mail.

"Don't spend all of your time today judging tomorrow by your experiences of yesterday. Yesterday is only a dream, and tomorrow is a vision. But today you have at your command. It is ticking away into a yesterday...You have only 24 hours to act in...to be kind and considerate, to do someone a favor, to make someone laugh. Then do the good things that you know you should, do a bang up job of being a good person, so when today becomes a yesterday, you will have a pleasant dream, and your tomorrow will be a hopeful vision. Take advantage of today...It's the only choice you have...Today We Live."

In the past several weeks I have given you the following information in my ads: education, business experience, civic activities and platform. I sincerely hope each voter in Beat 1 will weigh out qualifications before the Nov. 4th election. Our future progress for roads, schools, hospitals, jobs, and the communities depend on your vote.

I would like to clarify several untrue rumors that I have encountered in the past several weeks, such as, "My own Mother wouldn't vote for me". I am sorry to say that my mother, Mrs. Lucy Cuevas Courge, has been deceased for 33 years. My father, A. Gordon Courge, former school board member and employee of L&N Railroad, is also deceased. Another was that "When I served on the Port & Harbor commission I tried to raise our taxes". Well, most everyone knows that the commission has no authority to do this. We ask the Board of Supervisors for an increase in our operating budget. It has been said that "I am being run by other political factions". This is also untrue! I have initiated and conducted my own campaign. If you have any questions, please contact me.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people who have worked in my behalf. I have enjoyed the privilege of meeting many fine people and received great hospitality during my campaign. I am looking forward to serving you and meeting those that I have missed while campaigning.

Many Thanks

Methodist Hour director says philosophy lies in simple phrase.

The Rev. John M. McKay, director of The Methodist Hour, a radio program, now being heard over 16 Mississippi stations, was one of the speakers at the recent Harvest For Christ Revival sponsored by Main St. United Methodist Church.

With a five point devotional aim, the program is heard at 8 a.m. Sunday over Radio WPUP, Bay St. Louis.

Described by his listeners, both at the revival and in his radio audience, as a "dynamic speaker," Rev. McKay says the radio hour is designed to aid and assist the Church with its various programs and emphasis.

"We want to provide a worship service that presents a challenge for greater Christian living and deeper dedication," Rev. McKay said after the Bay revival meeting last week.

He added, "We want to encourage the lonely, the shut-in and the despondent to fan the spark of those who are searching for the meaning of life."

In explaining the simple purpose behind his ministerial philosophy, Rev. McKay said, "It breaks down into a very easily remembered phrase. It is a phrase I leave with all my audiences, 'You plus God can do anything.'"

Rev. McKay can be contacted, through Main St. United Methodist, or via mail at P.O. Box 1581, Hattiesburg, Mississippi 39401. His telephone number is 544-2975.

Halloween thought to be good time to divine husband

"Tonight the ghosts will have their hour
Tonight the goblins walk
Strange creepy creatures, weird of form
Will fly and moan and talk."

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

Halloween, celebrated by young and old in Great Britain and the United States, is one of the oldest festivals observed anywhere, its roots buried deep in Celtic soil.

The Celts, who inhabited Ireland since prehistoric times and who are the ancestors of many English-speaking people, celebrated two major festivals yearly to mark the changing of the seasons, one in the spring and one in the fall. Since the fall festival marked the beginning of the most barren part of the year, it gained a sinister quality, one of fear and evil. During the fall festival, the Celts renewed their laws and contracts. They offered sacrifices to their lord of death, Saman, to protect their herds and crops from hoards of spirits who they believed roamed the fields and crossroads on Halloween night.

One particularly horrifying event took place once every three years at Tlachtgha, County Meath, in Celtic Ireland. Special rites, lasting for two weeks, were opened with the burning of human sacrifices. All household fires were extinguished that day, and were rekindled from the Tlachtgha fire.

The Celts had other superstitions and rites they observed during the fall festival. They believed cats were possessed by evil spirits. They also believed the fall celebration to be a good time to divine the future. It was a time for young girls to invoke the aid of the devil to reveal their future husbands. Several methods were employed for this purpose.

Bobbing for apples and coins was thought a good method to divine one's future husband. The girl who picked up an apple without using her teeth or who got a coin from the bottom of the bucket would meet her husband that night. If she didn't want to get wet, a young maiden could sneak out into a field with a bag of hemp seeds, throwing the seeds over her shoulder and chanting, "Hemp seed I sow, who will my husband be? Let him come now." If she was lucky, her man would be standing behind her.

Witches had nothing to do with the Celtic feast, but were generally considered to be evil and were associated with darkness, death and Halloween. A satanic cult is still alive in France today, and rumors of modern day witchcraft surface occasionally in the United States. Witches are held to operate at night, haunting crossroads, graveyards and concocting noxious brews.

Colonial Americans devised what they considered a foolproof means of revealing a witch. The suspect was thrown into a lake or pond. If she floated, she was a witch. If she drowned she was honest.

Today, Halloween is harmless for most people. It's a day for parties and annoying pranks. Few people, however, as they dress up in their costumes or go off to a party realize the frightening beginnings of Halloween.

Guardsmen eligible for tuition assistance

The local National Guard unit has a new program available to residents of this area which provides educational assistance grants for study at institutions of higher learning or vocational education schools.

First Lieut. George S. Allison of Det. 1, 185th Trans Co in Bay St. Louis said the Mississippi National Guard Educational Assistance Program, established by the legislature, authorizes persons serving in the National Guard to receive tuition assistance while attending institutions of higher learning within the state. The tuition assistance may be used only for undergraduate studies, Allison added.

An individual, Lieut. Allison said, may receive up to $300 a year under the program.

A new enlistee can join at age 17 for a six-year term. The enlistee takes basic combat training for a period of six months then returns to his unit for a weekend drill once a month and two weeks of training in the summer.

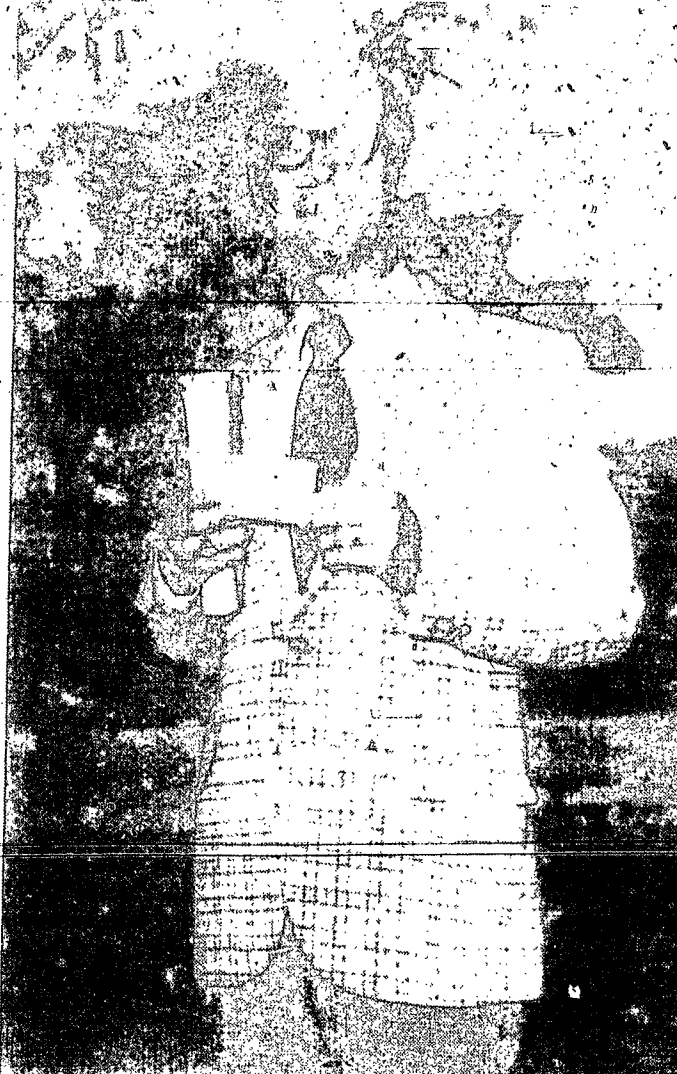

Allison said this program allows a young person to join the National Guard, continue his education without a lengthy break and receive benefits under the Educational Assistance Program.

To be eligible for the education assistance guardsmen must be between the ages of 18-35, a resident and qualified elector, and not eligible for any federal veteran education benefits.

Persons interested in the new National Guard Educational Assistance Program should contact PSG Samuel A. Cuevas at the Bay St. Louis Armory, telephone 467-4681.

A NEW CONSTELLATION

Continental Congress passed a resolution that established the Stars and Stripes on June 14, 1777, but did not specify the arrangement of the thirteen stars on the blue union, except to say that they should represent a new constellation. As a consequence, according to the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, we find a variety of forms. The first flag, popularly known as the Betsy Ross flag, had them arranged in a circle, based on the idea that no colony should take precedence.

ELECT TERRELL (TERRY) RANDOLPH SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION HANCOCK COUNTY

Thanks again for your support in selecting me as your Democratic nominee to the office of Superintendent of Education. Now we are faced with another election on November 4th to finalize this nomination. The people of Hancock County gave me an unquestionable majority in the August Democratic Primary, and I ask for your continued support in the General Election on November 4th.

During the past few months of my campaign I have met with a great many of our citizens in each of our county communities. The voters reflected their acceptance of my outline to upgrade the educational institutions of our county. My specific goals as outlined in August are as follows:

TOP PRIORITY

- SPECIALIZED READING PROGRAM
- SPECIAL EDUCATION
- EXPANDED CURRICULUM
- BUILDING TRADES

HIGH PRIORITY

- A congenial and honest working relationship with the Hancock County School Board.
- A professional working relation between the superintendent's office and the many organizations of the county.
- A well-rounded athletic program that will include major and minor sports.
- Beautifying our school campuses and current buildings.
- Upgrading the school libraries.
- Federal Aid for our schools that we so desperately need to keep up with today's industrialized society.

I ask you to elect a superintendent that will be in constant touch with our schools and work towards bringing pride to our public school system. A superintendent that will bring all communities in our county closer together for the betterment of our schools. A superintendent that will be close to the children and their needs. A superintendent that is qualified, young and aggressive.

The recent announcement of the Naval Oceanography to locate in the county will give us additional aid to improve and add to our present facilities and Special Federal Aid Funds that would enable us to build a new high school in the southern end of the county. This influx in population will give our school system the needed funds that we have lacked in the past to support our total school program.

I need your help to make it possible for me to serve you as your Superintendent of Education in the ensuing four years. Thank You!

Respectfully Yours,

TERRELL RANDOLPH

HOME OF THE FUTURE?—Gulfport native E. J. Lacoste, III, has received a patent for his "Honeyhome," a low cost, quality home that can be constructed in less than two weeks. Named for its honeycomb shape, the Honeyhome is made of pre-constructed panels built in modules, eliminating corners and hallways.

MUW alumnae announce plans for scholarship

The Harrison-Hancock County Chapter of the Mississippi University for Women (MUW) Alumnae Association will kick off its scholarship drive Nov. 6 with a meeting in Gulfport.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the Sheraton-Gulfport Inn on U. S. 49.

Mrs. Dees said the chapter plans to fund an annual scholarship for a student from Harrison or Hancock County.

In Scotland long ago to bite your glove was considered a pledge of deadly vengeance.

Builder bee-lieves he has 'honey' of a home

An Oxford man has received a patent for a revolutionary building system that will allow the construction of low-cost quality "Honeyhomes" in less than two weeks.

Architect E. J. Lacoste III, a native of Gulfport, received the patent after eight years of research on a pre-constructed design which reduces both labor and materials costs. International patents are pending, and contractors and builders from as far away as Iran and Japan have expressed an interest in the system.

His system involves the use of pre-constructed panels built in modules which eliminate corners and hallways. The result is more usable space at costs well below levels for conventional methods.

Here Lacoste is marketing the three-bedroom "Honeyhome," named for its honeycomb shape, for under $14,000.

A graduate of the University of Mississippi Department of Urban and Regional Planning, Lacoste said the price range for his houses falls between the mobile home industry and conventionally constructed homes, a slot no one has successfully hit before.

"The Honeyhome is especially suited for young couples," Lacoste said. "With this house a couple can buy the lot they want, build a house they can afford, and have a bigger house later—simply by adding on modules, and with a minimum of time, cost, and trouble."

Lacoste said, "Honeyhomes are compact and over-insulated by today's standards, with six inches of insulation in the ceilings and floors, and four inches in the walls. "Since halls and corners are eliminated, there is no wasted space to heat and cool. And because windows are opposite each other so that the house ventilates itself, we anticipate less of a need for continuous operation of the air-conditioning system," he added.

Mississippi unemployment shows downward trend

Mississippi's economy is recovering from its low point of last spring, according to the R & D Center's recently released issue of R & D Economic Comment.

The state's pattern of recession, and recovery now compares closely with that of the U. S. economy, after the gains Mississippi has registered in recent years. Unemployment in both Mississippi and the nation reached its peak in May and, although still high, shows a downward trend. Other economic indicators, such as retail sales, reveal slight, but definite signs of recovery.

The growing confidence in the nation's economic future is reflected in a graphic analysis presented in the R&D

Economic Comment. The third quarter report for fiscal 1975 notes a dramatic 11.2 percent gain in the real gross national product, after a second quarter gain of 1.9 percent.

Moving through the locks at NASA-National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County is a NOAA data buoy enroute to its station in the Gulf of Mexico. The Data Buoy Office of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration at NSTL designed, instrumented, and equipped the 40-foot diameter buoy. The steel hull of this EB-03 was constructed by a Gulfport firm. Towed via canal to NSTL, the DBO scientists install generators, storage batteries, sensors for acquiring data relating to oceans and atmosphere. This data is stored by on-board computers, relayed at predetermined times via satellite to on-shore stations. Monitoring of water data by NOAA at NSTL is taking place on the streams and rivers in Mississippi, along the Gulf Coast and on oceans throughout the world.

Data buoys: tracking hurricanes to measuring pollution

If you've ever been to sea or played around with boats on coastal waters, you're familiar with navigational buoys. Coming in all shapes, sizes and colors, they are to sailors what highway markers and signs are to motorists.

But there's another important member of the buoy family, not as well known perhaps, that have influence over the lives of all of us. Even people in Kansas, for example, as far away from the sea as one can get, benefit from "data buoys."

The center for development of data buoy technology is the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration's Data Buoy Office at NASA-NSTL. It's one of the largest resident agencies with several operating divisions. Besides the Data Buoy Office, there's the National Oceanographic Instrumentation Center; the Fisheries Engineering Laboratory of the National Marine Fisheries Service; and the National Weather Service's Lower Mississippi River Forecast Center located at Slidell in the NASA Computer Center complex.

All of these NOAA groups interact with one another. Because data buoy technology involves ground and satellite communications, hydrology, engineering, computer sciences and a host of other scientific disciplines, the NDBO mission interacts also with most of the other agencies on site.

Buoys designed, instrumented and tested here serve the needs of government, science and industry. They range from small, simple mechanisms reporting a single bit of information to giant floating "systems" measuring a great variety of atmospheric and oceanographic parameters. They retrieve data, store it in on-board computers, transmit via radio or satellite to computer centers on ship or shore.

Data buoys developed at NSTL and deployed worldwide are affecting all of our lives. They're in our oceans, helping the National Weather Service forecast weather, track hurricanes.

They're in the Pearl River, gathering water quality information for Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission.

They're all up and down the Mississippi River, helping the Corps of Engineers with river forecasting and data gathering.

They're helping with research programs in polar seas, monitoring the environment with shifting buoys in other oceans.

They're checking on pollution and gathering other information on bays and estuaries along our Gulf Coast.

It's safe to say they're just about everywhere; some experimental, others operational.

Buildings, landings, docks, canals and a deep channel to the Gulf that were originally designed to accommodate the big Saturn transport barges have been adapted to serve the needs of NOAA and its data buoy operations at NSTL.

They're towed in, worked on, and towed out. The Gulf of Mexico nearby is the primary testing area.

NASA-NSTL is a convenient site for this reason. It is a logical site for NOAA's two primary missions - Research and Development in Data Buoy Technology, and Data Buoy Applications for government, scientific or industrial users.

The DBO is directed by James W. Winchester, who also has the title of Manager at NSTL, National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration. Winchester, a prominent and nationally known oceanographer, has a fascinating background of involvement in some of our nation's most spectacular oceanographic operations.

Artic weather stations, Alaska's DEW Line, nuclear weapons test operations in the Pacific during the 1950's - he's been mixed up in all of it. He thinks the NASA-NSTL concept is great, permitting efficient interaction between related scientific researcher groups and user groups. The "office next door" convenience makes for a better, faster line of communications and easy exchange of views and information.

THE ROTTEN APPLE

If you're interested in starting and running your own city, you would do well to study the rise and fall of New York City.

Any way you slice it, The Big Apple is a classic example of what a city, state or nation should NOT be. You might call it a living textbook of pitfalls in city government.

Their biggest mistake, of course, is their concept of government. Instead of the people supporting the government, New York City has tried with all its might to support its people - virtually ALL its people!

And their luck has finally run out. As I told most everyone in Mississippi who asked me about New York City, you just simply cannot give EVERYONE free jobs and services without sooner or later paying the price. Somebody has to pay for those free services.

Now, in a normal society, that "somebody" would be the taxpayer. In New York, unfortunately, the taxpayers finally crumbled under the load. They found that they couldn't carry the city - much less the world - on their back forever.

So what happens when they finally reach the bottom of the barrel and find no more money? They head straight to Washington, where they ask the federal government for help.

"New York, by exhausting all of its resources, can meet its obligations until December 1," Governor Hugh Carey wired the President. "After then, the welfare of our citizens rests in the hands of the federal government."

Can you imagine that? How in the world can the federal government bail out New York City when we're $600 billion in debt ourselves?

Let's look for a moment at both sides of the issue. There are, after all, many factors in this debate.

To begin with, consider the fact that New York City spends close to $1,000 per resident when it comes to goods and services furnished by the city. Pittsburgh, on the other hand, spends roughly $200 per person.

New York City could close half its public hospitals and still have nine times more than Chicago operates. They refuse to close any at all even though they continue to have a high level of empty hospital beds.

And education! My friends, if you have a high school diploma, you can go to college in New York City for FREE. It comes as no surprise to learn that 220,000 enterprising young souls are currently taking the city up on that generous offer.

Finally, consider the welfare load in the financial center of the world. They have half as many people on welfare in New York City as Mississippi has people in the entire state!

And if they aren't on welfare, chances are they're working for the government. In fact, I have been told that one of every 20 New Yorkers works for the government.

On the other side of the argument, I think we need to remember that the average WORKING man or woman in New York didn't create this financial crisis. It's a shame that their good name is on the line.

There's also the argument that a financial collapse in New York City would mean financial trouble for this country's largest banks. I happen to think that claim is exaggerated.

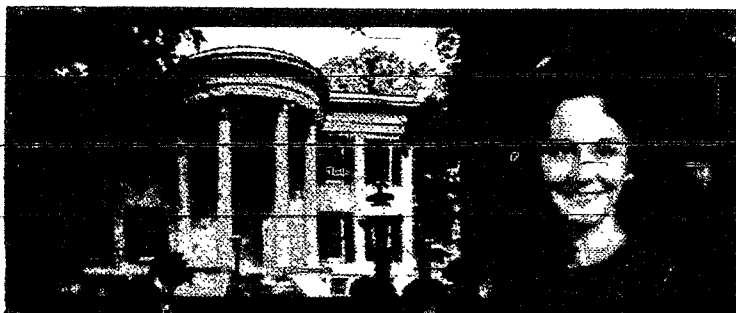

Finally, there's the argument that New York's bankruptcy would make municipal borrowing more difficult everywhere and would drive up the interest rates on bonds at the expense of local taxpayers. Banks holding large amounts of defaulted notes and bonds would be endangered.

I believe there's some truth to that and I shudder to think what will happen if New York and any of its banks should, indeed, collapse.

The largest single factor in this debate, however, is the fact that Washington will be establishing a dangerous precedent if we bail out New York City. First it's New York, then maybe Chicago, Buffalo, and any other city that backs itself to the wall.

I don't have much sympathy right now for New York City. They had better get at the business of seriously trying to straighten out their own mess.

There is much that can be done to tighten New York City's belt.

"News From Your Mansion"

By Carroll Waller

Three big receptions in less than a week have brought hundreds of new visitors to the Mansion.

Dixie Lee Etridge of Greenville, our lovely Miss Wheelchair America, was honored with a reception last Friday. Friends from far and near gathered to honor this most outstanding young lady who is a shining example of what a handicapped person can achieve. Dixie is currently a student at Delta State University and I had the honor of being one of the judges who selected her to represent Mississippi in the national contest.

October 21st was a real red letter day at the Mansion as female descendants of 19 Mississippi Governors gathered to help me receive members of the official Mississippi Women's Clubs at a high tea.

Four former first ladies and their daughters were present. Included were Mrs. Martin Conner, Mrs. Fielding Wright, Mrs. Ross Barnett and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Jr.

Governors represented included Trighman Tucker, 1842-44; William McWhittie, 1857-59; Charles Clark, 1862-65; Benjamin Humphreys, 1865-68; James Alcorn, 1868-70; Robert Lowry, 1882-90; Anselm McLaurin, 1896-1900; Andrew Longino, 1900-04; James K. Vardaman, 1904-08; Earl LeRoy Brewer, 1912-16; Mike Cramer, 1932-36; Paul Johnson, Sr., 1940-43; Tom Bailey, 1944-46; Fielding Wright, 1948-52; J.E. Coleman, 1958-60; Ross Barnett, 1960-64; Paul Johnson, Jr., 1964-66; John Bell Williams, 1966-72; and our daughter Joy representing Bill Walker, 1972-76.

At least four Mansion brides were back to visit and share their experiences in the historic old house. These were Nellah Bailey, now Mrs. Hunter Webb, Jr. of Meridian; Mrs. Paul Johnson, Jr., of Hattiesburg and her daughter Mrs. Patricia Johnson Boykin of Jackson; and Mrs. Charles Hunt of Madison, the former Elaine Wright.

Several hundred members of the club enjoyed the opportunity to visit with these descendants, many of whom had personal memories of living in the Mansion.

Before Ed left on his Middle East trip, he proclaimed October 22nd as MARIE HULL DAY IN MISSISSIPPI and she was honored with a reception at the Mansion that morning. I had the privilege of representing the Governor in the presentation of an Outstanding Mississippian award to this noted Mississippi artist whose work has spanned some 60 years.

The Mississippi Art Association co-sponsored the event. Mrs. Wirt Yeager, Jr., is president of the Association and Mike Ogden is director. There was also an open house that day at the Association gallery on North State Street, where a Marie Hull show will hang until November 22nd.

A special feature of the day was the introduction of the new book "The Art of Marie Hull" written by Malcolm Howwood, Chairman of the Art Department at Delta State, Virginia McGhee Elias and William S. Haynie. Mr. Norwood and Mrs. Elias were present to autograph copies of the book as was Mrs. Hull. Barney McKee represented University Press which printed the book.

It was a privilege for us to be allowed to pay this recognition to an outstanding Mississippi artist and I was especially honored since she presented me with a small landscape she calls "Mississippi Autumn" as a memento of the day.

New baptisms

Four young people and one infant received baptism Sunday at Mount Chapel Baptist Church in Waveland. Reverend O. Parker, pastor of Mount Chapel for the past 14 years, performed the baptisms for Archie Thomas, Gezelle Cal, James Allen, Mary Allen, and Sylvester Handary.

Governor's weekly roundup

CBS production to be filmed in Mississippi

Charles Allen, Mississippi Film Commission director, has announced another new motion picture for Mississippi. Allen said, "the value of motion picture production in Mississippi has increased from $5 million to $20 million a year."

Set for production in early November is a major CBS feature movie for television. Called "The Minstrel Man," the movie concerns life around traveling minstrel shows in mid-America in the late 1930's. Paul Cameron, vice-president of production for Tomorrow Enterprises, Inc., was in Jackson last week to announce plans and begin preparation for the film.

IMMUNIZATION NEEDED

People don't worry much about childhood diseases anymore, but according to the Mississippi State Board of Health, they should.

Dr. Durward Blakey, Chief of the Bureau of Disease Control, stated that outbreaks of preventable diseases, such as polio and measles could once again strike the nation's young unless more children are vaccinated.

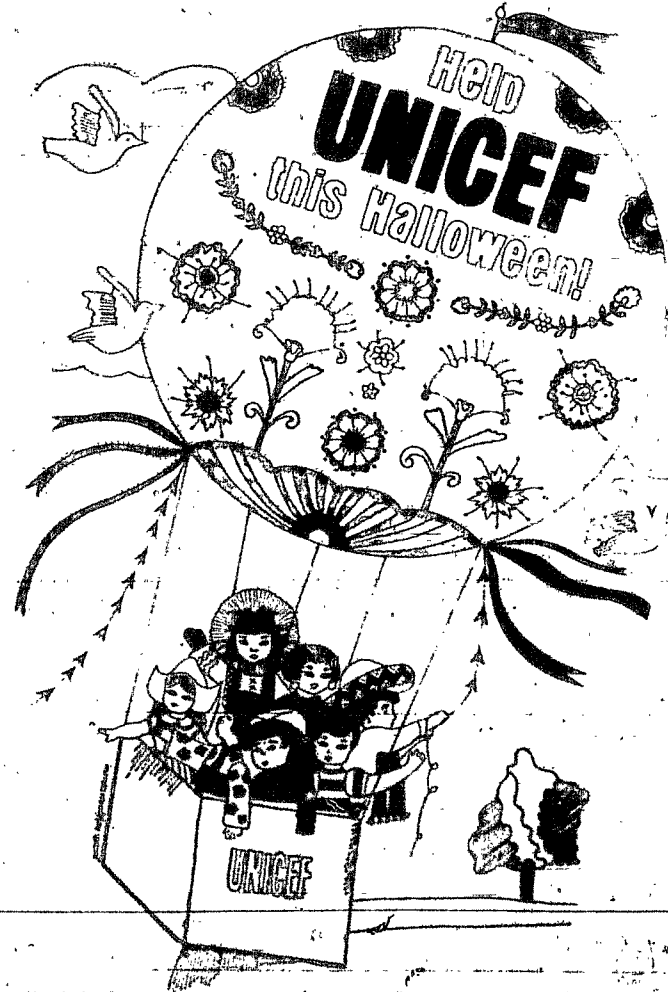

To alert people to the problem and to explain the solution, the State Board of Health, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, organized medicine, industry and volunteer groups are participating in Immunization Action Month, a time when extensive efforts are made to inform people about the potential dangers of childhood diseases and to urge parents to make sure their children are fully immunized. The campaign has been being carried out during the month of October.

STATEWIDE CONTEST

Dr. Jim Meredith, Mississippi Park Commission Executive Director, has announced that a statewide public contest is being held to select a suitable name for the Living Historical Plantation now under development near Greenwood.

"In keeping with our objective policy of determining what the general public wants in the line of recreational development, we feel it equally important that they have a voice in the name selection of each new park developed," Dr. Meredith stated.

UNICEF - the United Nations Children's Fund - is currently aiding projects in over 100 countries, with a child population of over 850 million. Increasingly it concerns itself with specially vulnerable or disadvantaged groups - the very young, girls, children in slums, shantytowns, and deprived rural areas.

The entire amount that UNICEF received in 1974 to help the desperately needy children of the world - about $115 million - was less than the world spent on armaments in five hours.

Bicentennial News

By JOE PILET

You are invited to join me in a research project. I seek documented facts in order to establish the date and the location where the first official flag of the United States was placed on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Was the first flag planted in a Dupree settlement near Pascagoula on the second day of January, 1811? Or was a flag placed in the Pearlington area on January 5 of that year when a Dr. Flood appointed Simon Favre as an officer? Or, should we follow the Flood report to the letter and assume the first flag of the United States was hoisted at Bay St. Louis on the 8th when Dr. Flood handed the commission to Philip Saucier? The following day, according to Flood's diary, he reached Pass Christian in his boat called The Alligator. The flag was displayed at the Pass on January 9.

Information about Dr. Flood is limited. In J. F. H. Claiborne's book MISSISSIPPI AS A PROVINCE, TERRITORY AND STATE on page 306 one may read the following account:

Dr. Flood's Report

New Orleans, January 25, 1811

Governor: In compliance with your instructions I embarked on the Alligator on the 5th and proceeded to Mr. Simon Favre's on the eastern bank of Pearl river. He is a planter, owns a large stock, and is an educated and very agreeable gentleman. He accepted the commission with pleasure, and will make an energetic officer, and seems greatly to value the respect you have manifested for him. I hoisted the flag of the United States at Bay St. Louis on the 8th, and handed a commission to Philip Saucier, a venerable gentleman of prepossessing manners and with a patriarchal influence. Next day displayed the flag at the Pass, and proceeded to the bay of Biloxi, where I found Mr. Ladinier, and gave him the commission. He is a man of excellent sense, but can neither read nor write, nor can any inhabitant of the bay of Biloxi that I can hear of.

On the morning of the 13th I landed at Pascagoula and planted the national flag. Here I met some men who had just come down the river from Dupree's who said that he was at home, and that he had taken down the convention flag on the 2nd inst, and hoisted the national colors.

Working on the presumption that Dr. Flood's account is accurate, we must now learn who Dr. Flood was and how he assumed the vital role of appointing officers in the various settlements along the coastal territory. To save you time in your search for information on Dr. Flood do not look in the Dictionary of American Biographies. He is not there. Do not look in A History of Mississippi by Dr. Richard Aubrey McLemore. He is not mentioned there, either. Don't look in the World Book or the Encyclopedia Britannica. No mention. Even the National Cyclopaedia of American Biography which was copyrighted in 1901 gave no reference to Dr. Flood.

A research project can be exciting and challenging and it can also be baffling. Sort out the salient facts and then DIG: James Madison at the age of 57 was inaugurated to serve as the fourth President of the United States. His term of office was from 1809-1817. So we know Madison was at the helm when West Florida was in the hands of the Spanish. We know American settlers were dissatisfied with Spanish rule and gave formal notice to the President - a notice which incorporated a threat. If annexation was not promptly conceded they would seek alliance with some other government. The President by proclamation claimed the whole district and directed Governor William Charles C. Claiborne to take possession and consider it a portion of Orleans territory.

To refresh your memory Claiborne was the second governor of Mississippi Territory and the 1st American governor of Louisiana. David Holmes was fourth governor of Mississippi Territory. The Dictionary of American Biography tells us Holmes tactfully cooperated with Governor W. C. C. Claiborne and was instrumental in effecting the successful occupation of the territory. Which flag was used? The flag of 1795 had 15 stripes as well as 15 stars to stand for the 15 states. The flag of 1818 went back to 13 stripes and had 20 stars for the 20 states.

Well, you take it from there. Which of our coastal cities can rightfully claim the distinction of hoisting the first American flag? Who was Dr. Flood? Was he an M.D., a dentist? What was his full name? Who gave him authority?

Society deadlines

All Society items, weddings, engagements, and club news should be submitted no later than 5 p.m. Tuesday for inclusion in our Thursday edition and no later than 5 p.m. Friday for inclusion in our Sunday edition.

Any item not appearing in the intended edition normally will appear in the next edition.

Begin land preparation now for next cotton crop

For top yields of wheat now is the time to plant. The cut-off date is about Nov. 10.

Fertilize small grains with 200 pounds of an 8-24-24 or equivalent—fertilizer—to the acre and follow with additional nitrogen later. If the small grain is following soybeans, no preplant nitrogen will be needed.

Small grains do best on well-drained soils. Heavy clay soils with poor internal drainage may make profitable grain yields if surface

Fall preparation of land to be planted to cotton next year is an important part of the production program. Clay soils infested with johnsongrass may require an application of an incorporated herbicide.

Stalk destruction is a must, especially this year after the bacterial blight problem we experienced this year. Destroying the stalks is one of the best measures to help prevent this disease next year.

You can overseed ryegrass on permanent pasture sod as late as Nov. 5. Before overseeding, either cut hay from the pasture or graze it closely.

Use 40 pounds of ryegrass seed to the acre for overseeding. You can also add a lime clover to the overseeding. A applied before land light disking will insure a better stand and will not damage permanent pasture sod.

VOTE FOR AND ELECT CHESTER FAVRE SHERIFF OF HANCOCK COUNTY NOV. 4, 1975

On August 21, 1975, Sylvan Ladner ran a political ad in the Sea Coast Echo. I wonder who he was trying to fool by these false statements. He stated that he was active in community affairs, civic organizations, and a dedicated public servant.

I am going to name a few things that I have done for our community in the past 35 years.

I have worked with the Boy Scouts as a Cubmaster, a Scout Master, and Explorer Advisor.

In school activities, I served as Vice-President of the North Bay Elementary P.T.A.

I served as Chairman of the Christmas Party for the Knights of Columbus and helped put on the first Christmas Party at Annunciation School in Kiln.

I have helped with the Flea and Fly Games and served as Chairman one year.

I have been active in Little League Baseball for 20 years. Two years they didn't have enough sponsors for all the boys to play, so I sponsored a team.

I never saw Sylvan Ladner at any of the above functions, as a participant or a spectator.

I served as County Civil Defense Director before it was a paying job.

I served as a Deputy Sheriff when you worked on a commission basis.

I was the organizer of the Hancock County Watchdog Committee.

I served as Second Vice-Commander in the American Legion.

I served as Post Commander, Quartermaster, Adjutant, and Dept. Junior Vice-Commander in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

I am a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

I served in the United States Navy during World War II.

While I was serving my country and community, for the betterment of them, Sylvan Ladner's services were for him, making him a RICH man.

BILLY GRAHAM says about the new motion picture "Time to Run"

Today we see the family unit being attacked from every side. Torn apart and threatened. TIME TO RUN is a motion picture about a family about listening about the divorce between people. The unspoken moments and the moments of anger that don't really account for anything. TIME TO RUN is a story about the real life of Jesus Christ as an answer to the human dilemma.

I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully families being brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

I urge you to take your children... of your parents... to see TIME TO RUN when it comes to your community. You may find it more of a mirror than a motion picture!

CONSUMER'S NOTEBOOK

If you've been injured by any product or appliance now on the market, the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission wants to know about it.

The Commission will use the information concerning your accident to develop uniform safety standards for consumer products in hopes of reducing the injuries associated with those products.

Unfortunately, many of the calls and letters received at the Commission office report accidents that may have been caused by the careless misuse of consumer goods. According to Commission files, misuse has contributed to many serious injuries that require emergency treatment, and some of these accidents are very common.

Commission officials say these accidents most frequently involve:

IMPROPER MIXING - Some products can be extremely dangerous if mixed together. For example, chlorine bleach combined with ammonia or toilet bowl cleaner will release a hazardous gas that can kill a human, and serious injuries have occurred when people put their hands in this caustic mixture.

OVER-USE - If a small amount is good, then a large amount is better. Right? Wrong! Too much acid-type drain cleaner can eat away your plumbing and give you expensive repair bills. Some cleaners can produce toxic fumes, and a few aerosols can cause a lack of oxygen in the body if sprayed too heavily in a closed room. Always follow directions and use only the recommended amount.

HASTE - Haste make waste. And it can be fatal. If you overlook a loose part on a power mower or safety guard on a power saw or if you open a pressure cooker before it has been de-pressurized, you can wind up with an injury that can will no doubt slow you down.

LACK OF MAINTENANCE - Failure to repair broken products has often resulted in broken bones. Loose stair rails should be tightened, broken ladders repaired.

WATCH OUT FOR WARNING SIGNS - such as electrical sparks or gas odors, and call for qualified repair service immediately.

IMPROPER STORAGE - Highly flammable liquids can produce heavier-than-air vapors that may travel invisibly along the floor and then be ignited by a distant light or discarded cigarette.

Such liquids must be stored away from all potential ignition sources. Drugs, poisons and other hazardous products should be locked away in a safe place out of the reach of children. These products should also be properly labeled to avoid fatal mistakes.

Consumers who have been injured by a dangerous product or who suspect that a product is hazardous, should write the U. S. Consumer Products Safety Commission, Washington, D. C. 20207 or call toll-free, 800-638-2666.

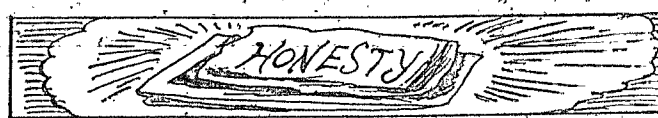

City fund reflects August deficit

Cash on hand in Bay St. Louis' 18 fund accounts as of Aug. 31 amounted to $481,708.94, according to figures released by the mayor's office.

Broken down into categories, the balances were City (general operating) Fund, overdrawn $13,356.33; bond and interest (excepting utilities) accounts, $142,893.88; special purpose funds, (excepting utilities), $125,735.65; utility operating funds, $41,578.03; utility bond and interest funds, $160,630.93; and utilities special purpose funds, $34,226.78.

Total cash balances amounted to $785,832.80.

Honesty is a fine jewel, but much out of fashion.

VICE PRESIDENT OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS ANSWERS JERRY LADNER

In the October 16, 1975 issue of the Sea Coast Echo, Jerry Ladner printed the heat expenditures from April through September. Mr. Ladner failed to mention that just prior to this, he made a $22,000.00 loan to pay his September docket. He said that Beat Five spent more than Beat One. It is a fact that the latest audit sheet, as of September 30th, shows Beat One $22,000.00 in debt, after receiving the same amount of funding as other beats.

Mr. Ladner has referred frequently to his incoming debt when he took office in 1972. My beat was also in debt, but I have, in the past four years, purchased new equipment and maintained and built roads in Beat Five. I have also fulfilled my obligation to bring Beat Five out of debt.

Relative to the equipment note that the board paid over Mr. Ladner's objections, he was advised by the Board not to buy this used piece of equipment in 1973. Now, two years later he claims this equipment doesn't function properly. By law, Mr. Ladner is responsible for this debt.

By law, it is each Board member's responsibility to stay within his allotted budget for the year. The following audit sheet does not include revenue sharing, state aid, or GEC money spent. It just reflects annual expenditures of district maintenance funds for the past fiscal year ending September 30, 1975.

The road and bridge expenditures shown for the five beats as published in the October 16th Edition showed the expenses of the beats from April through September of 1975. It so happens that counties operate on a fiscal year basis from October 1st of each year through September 30th. Why did Mr. Ladner pick out only a six month's period?

I believe it is my duty, as Vice-President of the Board of Supervisors, to accurately present all of the facts. That is why I have taken it on myself to publish the figures for the whole year. These figures show deficits depending on the part of the supervisor District No. 1 for the year ending September 30, 1975. All of the rest of the beats are in the black.

This add is not politically motivated, but is an effort on my part to present a true picture of the financial affairs of the beats in Hancock County.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES N. TRAVIRCA

DAVE TURNER

SUPERVISOR - BEAT 4

A MAN WHO WILL REPRESENT NO INTERESTS EXCEPT THOSE OF THE PEOPLE OF HANCOCK COUNTY

In an ad in the Sea Coast Echo on October 26th, 1975, Sam Perniciaro closed his ad with the following statement: "Please, before you vote, check the background of my opponent." Well, though this was really just another of those low blow, sly, snide political cuts meant as a smear, it is a good point. Too bad Perniciaro did not notice it. Because nothing could be better for Dave Turner than for you to check his background. He has reason to be proud of it, and you are invited to examine Dave's background carefully, since it tells you the kind of man he is and just how qualified he is to be the Beat 4 Supervisor. Dave Turner is the qualified candidate! He has demonstrated his interest in Hancock County and in helping the people here. Has Perniciaro done this? Dave Turner has already actively fought to get badly needed services for the people! The fact that the Crippled Children Foundation Therapy Center is built and operating in Beat 4 shows that he can get things done!

The job of Supervisor is much more than just taking care of our roads. Of course, that is one important part. But it is just one part. Careful and wise planning must also be done if your tax dollars are not to be wasted and if we are to have all the services here that we deserve, and if Hancock County is to prosper!

Some of Dave's opposition have made light of the fact that he is a College Graduate. But besides being educated, Dave Turner is practical minded, and he gets things done! Sure, he has some new ideas about improving Hancock County, but some folks who said in the past that new things couldn't be done are mighty glad now that things like the Therapy Center have been done!

Let's give Dave Turner a chance to work for the people of Hancock County! When you go to the booth Tuesday, vote for Dave Turner, and we will all win!

Dear Mr. Perniciaro,

In the interest of presenting the voters of Beat 4 with the real issues in the Beat 4 Supervisors race, I invite you to join me in a discussion of our platforms on live radio. I have spoken to Mr. Tony Hoda, manager of WPUP Radio Station, and affirmed that we could hold a debate live over WPUP. I will bear the expense of the half-hour radio time.

If you will please let me know as quickly as possible whether or not you will join me on the radio, I will be most happy to make the necessary arrangements as to a mutually convenient time, etc.

In the Interest of Good Government in Hancock County,

Dave Turner

David M. Turner

A Note to Beat 4 Voters

I sent the invitation above to Sam Perniciaro last week. I have not, as of this writing, heard the first "peep" from him! Now I wonder just what the problem is! Could it be that since Sam has advanced no real platform, (other than that he wants the job) that he is reluctant to be put in a spot where he would have to discuss his intentions in regard to the job rather than just making snide remarks about me?

(Signed) Dave Turner

Hotline credited with ending confusocracy

Mississippi state government has been described by some as a "confusocracy" with over 170 different boards, agencies and commissions, many with overlapping and duplicating functions.

Governor Waller has often called for a reorganization to end this confusion and give the people more access and control over the government.

While these efforts failed in the Legislature, one tool has been created to help the bewildered citizen find his way through the maze of state government bureaucracy.

That tool is the Governor's Hotline, a 24-hour toll-free telephone information, referral and assistance service established by the Governor in November, 1974.

Mrs. Joyce Shuford, Coordinator of the Hotline, says the program has received an average of 1,000 calls per month in the first year of operation.

She says requests from callers run the gamut of government service:

- Problems with beaver dams
- Information about a Black Creek float trip
- Social Security and unemployment compensation
- Problems with school transportation

- Consumer complaints against a roofing contractor
- Commitment procedures at State mental institutions

- Mississippi history resource information for use in the third grade

- Job training opportunities
- Complaints relating to law enforcement officials

-And many, many more. Mrs. Shuford says the Hotline acts as Mississippi's "ombudsman" which means "one who stands in the place of."

In this case, she says, the service "stands in the place of" the average citizen who doesn't have a lobbyist in the Capitol or who simply doesn't know where to go to get government help.

She says the service has not only helped to identify problems faced by the people; but it has also helped to "prod" government agencies into responding to individual problems of citizens.

Mrs. Shuford feels that the Hotline has made state government more sensitive and sympathetic toward the problems of the individual who, for too long, was isolated from the government and frustrated when he did seek help.

She urges any Mississippian needing information about or having a problem relating to service to call the toll-free any government agency or number, 1-800-222-7629.

JERRY'S ANSWERS TO LAST WEEKS QUIZ!

You may recall that my opponent had a little

Quiz in last week's paper. I took the Quiz.

Here are the results:

You may recall that my opponent had a little quiz in last week's paper. I took the quiz. Here are the results:

1. Which Candidate has the best education?

Well, I am a high school graduate. Like hundreds of others in Hancock County, I could not afford to go to college, so I went to work. I gained the practical knowledge necessary to represent working people by working with my hands. I learned the value of an honest day's work for an honest day's wages.

2. Which candidate has the best business experience and the most substantial work record?

My opponent did not see fit to list his business accomplishments and work record for anyone to compare, so I will list some of mine, and let the people compare. I have been a carpenter, a general contractor, a salesman, a representative of a Mississippi industry to list a few. I have been involved in several business ventures (successfully), and presently own two, and currently own a going restaurant business and also president of my own corporation. Not bad for a man with a high school education.

3. Can our county or beat survive with the "lack of harmony" that exists between Beat 1 supervisor and other supervisors?

The so-called "lack of harmony" that exists is certainly not of my making. The record will show that I voted overwhelmingly with the majority during the past four years. Any lack of harmony is the result of some of the other supervisors (and the appointed board attorney) taking actions that are not in the best interests of the people of Beat 1 and Hancock County. If standing up to the Main Street Gang causes disharmony, than so be it. I will continue to stand up for the people, harmony or not.

4. Would you bring a prospective industrial manager to Hancock County and invite him to attend our public meetings?

My opponent had the opportunity to do this very thing. I know. I appointed him to the Port and Harbor Commission. He served for two years. Out of approximately 70 meetings during that period, he missed approximately 25 - nearly one-third of the meetings. (What was more important to him than industry for Hancock County?)

My support for the industrial growth of our county is a matter of record. In fact, in many cases, I was alone in my support.

5. Do our roads reflect the spending that has taken place in the past 4 years?

I took my case to the people in the first two primaries. I point out again, for the benefit of my opponent, that during my four year administration I paved twice as many roads as were paved during the previous 10 years. I shelled three times more roads (including the one my opponent lives on) as were shelled during the previous 10 years. All of this was accomplished in spite of the $36,000 deficit I inherited. I suggest my opponent ride through Beat One and see for himself.

6. Would a man with no children really be interested enough to fight for our schools and devote the time that a father would?

My support for our public schools is a matter of record. I support public education to the fullest. My opponent stated in an ad that I voted against the school bond issue. That is not true. I voted against a needless expenditure of taxpayers money to conduct a bond issue election just two weeks before a general election. To set my opponent straight - again - my entire family voted for the school bond issue, and I supported it. The fact that Mary and I have no children is the will of God. I have no control over his actions.

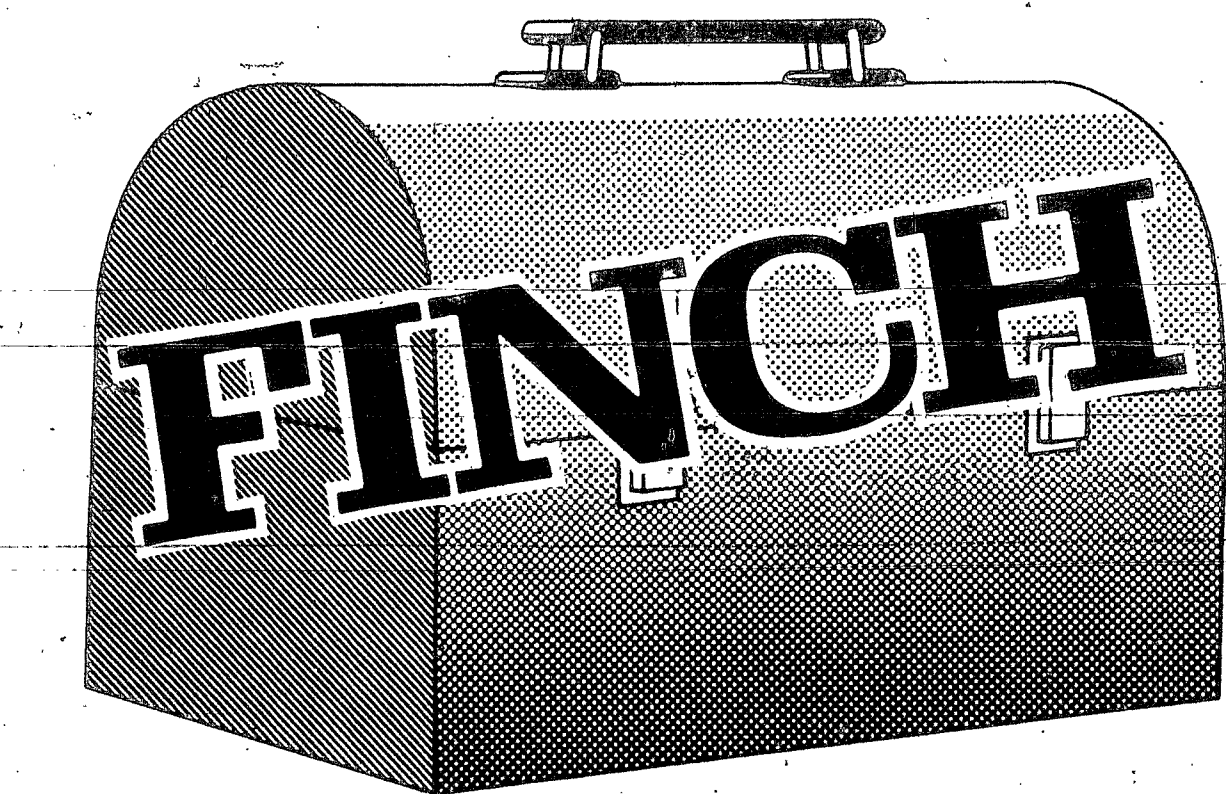

SINCE MY OPPONENT PUBLISHED HIS "QUIZ" AND NEGLECTED TO PROVIDE THE ANSWERS, I CAN ONLY ASSUME THAT HIS SCORE IS LEFT TO YOUR IMAGINATION. I TOOK THE "QUIZ" AND GAVE MY ANSWERS. I THINK I SCORED 100 PERCENT. WHAT IS HIS SCORE?

I AM DISAPPOINTED THAT MY OPPONENT HAS DECIDED TO USE THE ADVICE AND TACTICS OF THE OLD MAIN STREET GANG. THIS IS EXACTLY THE SAME GROUP WE BEAT IN THE LAST TWO PRIMARIES. THE PEOPLE KNOW THAT JERRY LADNER WILL STAND UP FOR THEM - EVEN WHEN HE STANDS ALONE. JERRY LADNER HAS NEVER VOTED AGAINST THE PEOPLE - AND MY OPPONENT AND THE MAIN STREET GANG (AND THEIR ATTORNEY) KNOW THAT.

In preparation for All Saints Day, Gene Monti, 405 Carroll Avenue, decorates his family gravesite at Cedar Rest Cemetery, Bay St. Louis. Markings show that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Monti lived from February 1881 to Feb. 28, 1960, and Oct. 7, 1884 to May 4, 1959, respectively. His sister Gladys, interred in the smaller, adjoining crypt, lived from Sept. 15, 1905, to June 22, 1951. Monti said there were five boys and five girls in the family. His sister, Mrs. Genny Rhodes, maintains the site with flowers and cleaning on a regular basis.

OLG Penny Party open for scares Oct. 30

SPOOKY OLD MOMS—Volunteers who will be on hand for OLG's annual Halloween Penny Party fun are (l-r) Mrs. David Ambrose alias Black Cat, Mrs. John Rosetti alias Raggedy Ann, and Mrs. Joseph Lee alias wicked witch.

While many Our Lady of the Gulf School mothers are putting finishing touches on the costumes they will model as volunteers behind the assortment of booths at the P.T.O.'s annual Halloween Penny Party, other parents are completing construction of a very ghostly Spook House.

This special feature of the Penny Party will be open for scares during regular Penny Party hours, Thursday, Oct. 30, from noon until 3 p.m. and again in the evening at 6 p.m. The Spook House will remain open Thursday evening as long as there are brave visitors.

Mrs. Joseph Gex, Halloween Penny Party chairman, has announced the following coordinators for the holiday named booths to be seen on the O.L.G. School Playground:

Bats and Bargains (used toy booth)—Mrs. Jean Larroux; Ghostly Garden (plant booth)—Mrs. Ronnie Artigues and Mrs. Robert Goodsell; Witches Corner (handcraft items)—Mrs. John Rosetti; Closet Skeletons (white elephant booth)—Mrs. Donald Strong; Goblin Gallery (books and posters booth)—Mrs. James Collins; Ghouls Gold (jewelry sales)—Mrs. Carol Glindmeyer; Fishing in the Pumpkin Patch (fish pond)—Mrs. Joseph Lee; The Black Cat (black cat ball game)—Mrs. Richard Leysen and Mrs. Charles Logan; The Owls Nest (the grab bag)—Mrs. David Ambrose; Ghost Walk (the cake walk)—Mrs. Fred DeBen and Mrs. Sidney Chevis; Spinning the Broomstick (the spinning wheel game)—Mrs. Harold Hitt; Graveyard Gravel (the doubloon toss)—Mrs. Elmer Thornton; Scarecrow Toss (the money toss)—Mrs. Anthony Trapani; Mummy's Kitchen and Ghouli Aid (the refreshment stand)—Mrs. Harold Heine and Mrs. Donald Corr; Broomstick Treats (home baked goods)—Mrs. Ralph Dagnall; Bats Cave Candy (the cotton candy machine)—Mr. Eugene Monti; the Spook House, Jean Larroux; Raffle ticket sales, Mrs. James Thriffley and Mrs. Harold; Posters, Mrs. Mitchell Jones' Sixth Grade Class; Set-up committee, Ronnie Artigues. Penny Party activities will also include Bingo to be held in the O.L.G. School Cafeteria by Sister Pat Farve.

The lucky raffle ticket holder winning the stereo tape deck and record player will be announced during the afternoons activities.

This year's Halloween Penny Party has been staged for the specific purpose of retiring the outstanding balance due for the carpet installed in classrooms at O.L.G. School during this past summer.

Mrs. Charles D'Agostino, Mrs. Patrick Battle, Mrs. Robert McDonald, Mrs. James Ginn, and Mrs. Leo Seal.

Provisional members welcomed into Junior Auxiliary

Six new provisional members were welcomed into the Bay-Waveland Chapter of the National Association of Junior Auxiliaries at a Monday coffee in the Beverly Drive residence of Mrs. John Hill, Bay St. Louis.

Associate members of the Junior Auxiliary served as hostesses for the event. Fall colors and a Halloween theme predominated at the event.

Provisional members attending their first Junior Auxiliary function were, Mrs. Charles D'Agostino, Mrs. Patrick Battle, Mrs. James Ginn, Mrs. Robert McDonald, Mrs. Leo Seal, Jr., and Mrs. D.O. Trembley.

Provisional trainer for the group is Mrs. Joseph W. Gex.

Mrs. Gex on Tuesday said the purposes of the training are fivefold.

"First the training is designed to acquaint the provisional member with the history, growth, and overall program of the local chapter," Mrs. Gex said.

Mrs. Gex explained, the local chapter orientation is followed by a program designed to provide an understanding of the relationship between chapters and the national association.

Next, provisional members study the functions of the public health, and the physical, mental, and social programs of the community to acquaint themselves with the cultural and recreational facilities available in this area.

Finally, provisional members study the community's public and private services in the welfare field which aid in the adjustment of the individual and the family.

To accomplish these objectives the provisional members engage in lecture-discussion sessions, Mrs. Gex said, utilizing guest speakers and chapter members knowledgeable in particular areas, as well as undertaking field trips to such agencies as the Welfare Department and the Public Health Department.

Mrs. John R. Valentine

Bride is former Deborah Poolson

Poolson-Valentine

Deborah Ann Poolson and John Richard Valentine exchanged wedding vows recently at First United Methodist Church in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

The bride is the daughter of Charles B. Poolson, Jr. and Mrs. Loraine Southerland, both of Waveland. She is a 1971 graduate of Picayune High School.

For her marriage, the bride wore a floor length gown of Quilana knit, made by Mrs. Marilyn Norris of Pass Christian.

Maid of honor was Miss Peggy Morrill of Memphis, Tenn., who wore a floor length gown, combined of autumn colors, together with a yellow garden hat.

Larry Valentine, of Mt. Clemens, Michigan, brother to the groom, was best man. Ushers were Gary Moffet and Steven Rozick.

Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Clarissa Villere of Waveland, wore a floor length pink gown.

The groom is a 1971 graduate of Kent State University and is presently serving with the U.S. Navy. A laboratory technician, he is currently stationed at the U.S. Naval Hospital, Subic Bay, Philippines, where the couple plan to live for the next two years.

Following a reception in Akron, Ohio, the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Canada.

Coast Episcopal presents "Bell, Book, and Candle"

Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian will present John van Druten's play "Bell, Book, and Candle" Nov. 6-8 in the student lounge of the high school.

Performances will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 6 and Saturday, Nov. 8. A special dinner and theatre combination will be available Friday, Nov. 7 at 6:30 p.m.

W. J. Holt will be directing the production assisted by student director Sharon Anderson.

Leading female roles will be played by Holly Vegas, Bay St. Louis, and Liz Campbell of Pass Christian. Leading male roles will be portrayed by Greg Smith of Pass Christian and Bill Kulick of Ocean Springs.

Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday night performances are $2 for adults and $1 for students with advance reservations or $2.50 and $1.25 when purchased at the door.

Friday night's dinner theatre will be $5 for adults, $3.50 for high school students and $2.50 for elementary students.

All proceeds from the play will go to the Coast Episcopal drama club.

Information on tickets may be received from the school office, telephone 452-2595.

Bay joins march for UNICEF Halloween

In houses all over Bay St. Louis, last minute preparations are now being made for what is hoped will be a record-breaking Halloween Drive for National UNICEF Day and the 25th Anniversary of Trick or Treat for UNICEF.

On October 31, a day of excitement and adventure will begin for hundreds of local children who - dressed up as goblins and witches, imps and elves - will be joining millions of American boys and girls across the nation in a special collection for the life sustaining work of the United Nations Children's Fund.

The special effort and the special excitement could hardly come at a more crucial time. In Africa, Asia and Latin America, hundreds of millions of children are in desperate need of help. Basic health services do not reach 80 percent of them. The threat of malnutrition and even starvation is increasingly perilous. In some regions up to 60 percent of primary age school children cannot go to school.

The children who come to your door - holding out the familiar orange and black boxes - will be acting as

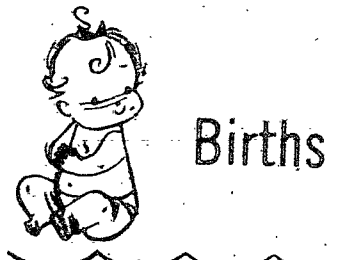

Landry infant receives baptism

Danielle Dawn Landry, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Landry, Bay St. Louis, was baptized Sunday, Oct. 26, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Michael Tracey, associate pastor, officiating.

Godparents are a maternal uncle, E.J. Fayard, New Orleans, and Mrs. Paulette Bernard, Waveland. Following the ceremony a family gathering was held at the Landry home.

ambassadors and diplomatic couriers for their less fortunate brothers and sisters all around the world. No contribution could be too large, and none is thought too small. UNICEF can put any contribution to good use.

Just 27 cents can buy a clinical thermometer which could help save the life of an infant or young child in a village health center. A single dollar can deliver enough high-protein food to feed three malnourished children for a

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pulizzano Jr., Denham Springs, La., announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Lisa Renee, Oct. 16. She weighed seven pounds, two ounces.

Mrs. Pulizzano is the former Sylvia Silvestri, daughter of Mrs. James Silvestri of Waveland and the late Mr. Silvestri. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pulizzano Sr., Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Dominica Pericario, also of Bay St. Louis, is the paternal great-grandmother.

BEWARE-ENTER AT YOUR OWN RISK! - is the eerie message scrawled across the dungeon door of the TRITON HAUNTED HOUSE. Slated to open two nights this year, October 30th and 31st, the Halloween event will take place at the old elementary school on Coleman Avenue in Waveland. Featured in the dungeon will be live (and very realistic) versions of the Wolf Man, Count Dracula, Frankenstein, the Mummy, and others equally as horrible. Visitors will also enjoy some spectacular horror movies as well as food and drink, all for nominal donations. The dungeon door will creak open at 6 p.m. and stay open until the last scream dies away.

It's Dr. Frankenstein's monster!

At 6 tonight, coast residents will begin a trip into the occult world of monsters and demons. For at that time, the doors of the TRITON HAUNTED HOUSE will creak open for a second year of spine-tingling Halloween thrills. From deep within the dark, forbidding haunted dungeon, will come the groans and growls of such malevolent creatures as The Wolf Man, Frankenstein, The Mummy and a host of others, equally as horrible.

For those too faint of heart to brave these dark passageways, there will be milder horror movies, and a chance to grab a bite to eat or a cold drink between trick-or-treating.

This year, the TRITON HAUNTED HOUSE will be presented two nights, October 30th and 31st, at the old Elementary school on Coleman Avenue in Waveland.

Last year, the Krewe presented their first haunted house in Cedar Point, at the old Larroux Grocery Store. Those who were among the thousand or so who went through the dungeon will recall the eerie sights and sounds as a most chilling experience - and well it should be. The entire project is planned and developed for four to six weeks by a large group of businessmen, all of whom donate both their time, talents, and in some cases, material, to insure that the TRITON HAUNTED HOUSE will be the Krewe's largest and most successful event of the year.

Admission is nominal (50 cents for the dungeon, 25 cents for the horror movies), with proceeds going toward the expense of the Krewe's Annual Mardi Gras Parade.

The "monsters" are all real live Tritons who suffer through hours of make-up application just to become the horrible, hairy beings you will confront in the dungeon. The make-up consists of a combination of liquid latex (which dries to a rubber-like texture), liquid make-up for color, putty and modeling wax, crepe hair, scars, fake teeth and finger nails, and such materials as needed to create warts, grotesque skin conditions, and other deformities as befit the particular character. The method of application is the same as in Hollywood, and is handled by experienced people.

Special lighting effects within the dungeon help to complete a really scary show, which last year proved too much for even some adults to handle. The Krewe of Triton promises a great show for young and old, and a HAUNTED HOUSE that will be remembered all year long.

First Assembly plans white elephant sale

A White Elephant Sale, sponsored by the ladies of First Assembly of God Church, is scheduled Nov. 1 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. The sale will be held at the church, located on Arnold St. in Waveland.

CITIES OF BAY ST. LOUIS AND WAVELAND

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: October 31st, Halloween, is a holiday especially for children; and

WHEREAS: For 25 years, millions of American youngsters have shared the holiday by trick or treating for UNICEF and the world's needy children; and

WHEREAS: Trick or treat for UNICEF is a constructive expression of American children's concern and friendship for their less fortunate contemporaries of the world; and

WHEREAS: UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is helping millions of children and mothers by assisting more than 100 countries and territories in programs of health, disease control, nutrition, educational and vocational training; and

WHEREAS: Each coin collected by trick or treaters can mean food or medicine for the sick and hungry children of the world; and

WHEREAS: In reaffirmation of the proclamation signed by the President of the United States of October 31st as National UNICEF Day,

NOW, THEREFORE, WE, Warren J. Carver, Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis and Johnny Longo, Mayor of the City of Waveland, on the occasion of the 25th Anniversary of the trick or treat for UNICEF program, do hereby proclaim Friday, October 31st, 1975, as in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and urge every citizen, old and young alike, to rededicate themselves to the work of the Children's Fund, to participate in Halloween activities and to welcome properly identified trick or treaters at the door - those whose orange and black containers carry the official printed UNICEF message with the UNICEF symbol of a mother and child, and who are accompanied by a responsible adult or teenager.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hand and caused seal of the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland to be affixed.

Mayor, The City of Waveland

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Carver, Bay St. Louis, announce the birth of their second child and first daughter, Jennifer Jean E. Oct. 10 in Slidell Memorial Hospital. She weighed eight pounds, four ounces.

Mrs. Carver is the former Nina Jean E. Waite, daughter of Mrs. Juanita B. Helscher and the late Jerome M. Waite, Bay St. Louis. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Rose Carver, of Bay St. Louis, and the late Jerome Carver. Mrs. Jennie Brown of Coffeetown, Kans. is the maternal great-grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ferrell, Waveland, announce the birth of their second child and first son, Aaron John, Oct. 14 at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. He weighed seven pounds.

Mrs. Ferrell is the former

Elizabeth Dahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dahn of Waveland. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Ferrell, also of Waveland. Mrs. Ida Bourgeois of Waveland is the paternal great-grandmother and Mrs. Gus Kinsel, Columbus, Ind., is the maternal great-grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schaefer of Bay St. Louis, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Ryan Stephen, Aug. 28, at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. He weighed seven pounds, six ounces.

Mrs. Schaefer is the former Bea Orlando, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Orlando of Morgan City, La. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Camille G. Schaefer, Bay St. Louis.

Party celebrates Minchew birthday

Jon Kristian Minchew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Minchew, celebrated his first birthday Sunday with a party at Jordan River Shores Clubhouse.

A circus theme was used in the decorations with a clown cake centering the table.

Joining in the celebration were his great-grandfather Alcey Carver; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Breazeale; Phyllis and Bubbie Breazeale; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Carver and son Gerrit; Fran, Farron and Floyd Hoda; Margie, Peggy Ann and Rhonda West; Penny Williamson; Sandy and Terri McCreary; Herbie Carver; Mrs. Mary Carver; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton West and children Charlotte, Kathleen and Dean; and Mrs. Evelyn Fayard and children Danielle, Krystal, Louise and Roy.

Fish can be caught in the Sahara Desert. By digging through the sand to underground streams fishermen can obtain fresh-water fish.

Greek night planned

The eighth annual Greek Night Festival, a fund-raising benefit for the Trinity Greek Orthodox Chapel, will be held Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. at the Biloxi Community Center.

A buffet dinner featuring Greek dishes will begin at 7:30 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by the Ya'ssoo dancers, a local group of Greek-American performers.

Tickets may be purchased at Angelo's Restaurant, Gulfport; Werlein's, Edgewater Plaza; Hilton Hotel, Biloxi; or from any member of the congregation.

Boosting the band

St. Stanislaus band director Davis Williams and student Eric Schott hold up an order blank for the All-Occasion

Christmas cards which are currently being sold by band members through Nov. 3 as a fund raising project.

CYO members plan

Catholic Youth Organization members from Our Lady of the Gulf School will hold a Halloween party for children aged nine and under Oct. 31 from 4 - 5:30 p.m. The party, to be held in the school cafeteria, will include a costume contest, relay races, refreshments and the awarding of a grand prize.

Coming Events

Mrs. Norine Barnes, Hancock County Extension Home Economist, will conduct a program entitled "Using Food Stamps Wisely" at 10 a.m. Nov. 4 at the Extension auditorium on Necaise Avenue.

Anyone interested is invited to attend.

A Halloween Carnival will be held at the new Waveland School Friday, October 31st, from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. There will be refreshments, games, and a white elephant sale. There will also be a costume contest at 5:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Around the clubhouse

BUSY FINGERS
Mrs. Ethel Breaux was re-elected president of Busy Fingers Extension Homemakers Club at the Oct. 21 meeting.

Others elected were Mrs. Gladys Discon, vice president; Mrs. Barbara Davis, secretary; Mrs. Delphine Taconi, treasurer, and Mrs. Cliff Banderet, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Breaux conducted the business session and Mrs. Discon presented the topic for the month, management of food and money.

Mrs. Rebecca Henley and Mrs. Delphine Taconi conducted a workshop on making Christmas decorations with egg cartons.

It was announced five members had received ribbons for their entries in the recent Hancock County fair.

Mrs. Breaux received eight blue and three red ribbons; Mrs. Davis, two blue; Mrs. Discon, four blue and one red; Mrs. Gloria Holmes, one blue and three red and Mrs. Taconi, three blue.

Members were asked to bring Christmas decoration ideas at the November 18 meeting.

Mrs. Discon hosted the social hour.

A.A.R.P.
Registration is now being conducted for a defensive driving course to be offered in a few months, according to the Gulf Coast chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons.

The announcement was made at the October meeting of Chapter No. 569, held at the West Side Community Center in Gulfport.

Mrs. Naomi Owen reported on the senior citizens' visit to the governor's mansion last month and also briefed members on October historical data.

Mrs. Jane Kennedy, director of the aging division, South Mississippi Planning and Development District, and Mrs. Pat Balduf, administrative assistant, presented a program which outlined a bicentennial forum between AARP and various student councils of the secondary schools.

A bicentennial program is planned for the Nov. 10 meeting and nominations will be accepted for officers for the coming year.

Also at the meeting, Gordon Nash reported on the AARP insurance program.

ANNOUNCES FOR

Supervisor-Beat 4

HANCOCK COUNTY

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dave Turner, who lives with his wife Martha and their six children at Route 1, Box 259, Bay St. Louis, announces that he will run as an independent candidate for Beat 4 Supervisor. If elected, he will not raise taxes, but will plan the use of our tax dollars more wisely, so that we can have more paved roads, better medical facilities, and additional services for the people of Hancock County. Dave Turner is a Mason, former Golden Gloves Champion, former National Oratorical Champion, Merit Scholar (1963), President and Founder of the Crippled Children Foundation, College Graduate, and serves on the Board of Directors of three corporations. His primary goal as Supervisor will be to get more jobs for Hancock County by bringing in more business.

Debra Woodcock chosen Gumbo queen

Miss Debra Lirie Woodcock was named White Cypress Gumbo Festival Queen Oct. 18 in the first annual gumbo festival staged at Necaise Crossing, Miss.

Miss Woodcock, a 17-year-old senior at Hancock North Central High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodcock of Kiln, Miss.

Named as alternates to Miss Woodcock were Darlene Cuevas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cuevas of Kiln; and Michele Vicknair, daughter of Muriel Gilbert of Clermont Harbor.

As festival queen, Miss Woodcock becomes eligible to compete in the Miss Mississippi Universe Pageant in Tupelo next January.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the United States of America is one body, working toward a common goal of freedom and a land of unity in all areas; and

WHEREAS, the United States Marine Corps has for two hundred years been an essential force in that struggle for freedom and unity; and

WHEREAS, during those years many citizens of this state have served our country as dedicated members of the United States Marine Corps; and

WHEREAS, this dedication and service has been not only in behalf of these cities, states, but also all the citizens of our great nation; and

WHEREAS, this two hundredth anniversary celebration is being observed as we pay tribute to the two hundredth birthday of our great nation; and

WHEREAS, on November 10, 1975 the United States Marine Corps shall celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of its existence; and

WHEREAS, it is duly fitting and proper that the citizens of these cities honor the United States Marine Corps and all Marines who have served from our cities during that long and illustrious history;

THEREFORE, we, John Longo, Mayor of the City of Waveland, and Warren Carver, Mayor of Bay St. Louis, do hereby proclaim the week of November 9 - 15, 1975, as UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS WEEK in Waveland and Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

"We are going to stop being the lowest paid people
in this country..."

Over the last 85 years our government has grown topsy-turvy.

We have more than a hundred and fifty separate state agencies, boards, and commissions.

If we reorganized our government into a dozen or so principle departments, I believe we could get better services at less cost to the taxpayers. We can't afford a horse and buggy government.

The old Constitution keeps us from making many obvious common-sense changes in our state government.

Reflections

Things sure change sometimes, almost before our very eyes. This 1932 picture of LaFrance's fishing camp in Ansley with Oscar Green sitting on a crab car evokes many memories for our Pearl River readers. The picture of "Uncle Oscar" as he was affectionately known in the county was submitted by Mrs. Mabel LaFrance.

Bay Little Theatre production

By MIKE CUEVAS
Revival Season '75 at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre concludes with the presentation of "The Curious Savage." The David Hubbard production is being directed by Mary Carter. Francis Franciewicz will head the cast as Ethel Savage in the three act comedy by John Patrick.

Mrs. Linda Haas, Jay Heitzmann and Foster

Dickard star as the conniving step-children after a sizable inheritance left to the spirited Mrs. Savage by her late husband.

Her protection from their "brow beating" is Helen Trudell, Marshall Henderson, Janet Busch, Alice Holmes, Gerald Gex, Lynn Phillips, and Art McGrath.

The dominant mood is high comedy for a night of family entertainment in the best Little Theatre tradition.

Dates of the play are Nov. 20-22. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. at the Playhouse on Boardman Avenue. Donation is $2.50, with tickets available at the door the nights of the play performances.

Tanner work on exhibit at Pass library

Paintings by Ouida Tanner will be displayed during the month of November at the Pass Christian Public Library.

The show will open with a reception from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 1. Included in the display will be pastels, water colors and oil portraits.

Mrs. Tanner has studied with Charles Ambrose, Helen Hall, and Beulah Delano of Meridian, and just recently with Dodge Kimbrough of Bay St. Louis. She has had one-man shows in Richmond, Va., sponsored by the James River Art League, and with art galleries in Memphis, Tenn. and Meridian.

Mississippi Power approves stock sale

Directors of Mississippi Power Company Tuesday approved the sale of 150,000 shares of preferred stock for $14,625,000 to help finance a portion of an approximate $70 million in 1975 construction costs according to Victor J. Daniel, Jr., president.

Daniel said the bid for the utility's preferred stock was $97.50, at a dividend rate of 10.2 percent.

The bid was accepted by the company's board of directors after reviewing proposals from two other underwriting groups. "Upon approval of

The Securities and Exchange Commission, the preferred stock will be offered to the public at 100 to yield 10.2 percent," Daniel said.

"The annual dividend cost of this new preferred stock issue by Mississippi Power Company amounts to $1.53 million and is another

Excessive costs protested by Dale

Southern District Public Service Commissioner John L. Dale is in Washington this week conferring with members of the Mississippi Congressional delegation regarding what Dale has called "outrageous" fuel oil and natural gas costs.

Dale, together with staff, will advise the public of the rate due to recent increases in the cost of oil and natural gas.

"The State Public Service Commission is doing all it can to place a cap on the rate of increase in electricity," Dale said. "But the rate of increase in the cost of oil and natural gas is so high that it is impossible to keep the rate of increase in electricity from being excessive."

Dale said that the rate of increase in the cost of oil and natural gas is so high that it is impossible to keep the rate of increase in electricity from being excessive.

Dale Takes Oil and Gas Cost

Southern District Public Service Commissioner John L. Dale is in Washington, D.C., this week conferring with members of the Mississippi Congressional delegation regarding what Dale has called "outrageous" fuel oil and natural gas costs.

Dale, together with staff, will advise the public of the rate due to recent increases in the cost of oil and natural gas.

"The State Public Service Commission is doing all it can to place a cap on the rate of increase in electricity," Dale said. "But the rate of increase in the cost of oil and natural gas is so high that it is impossible to keep the rate of increase in electricity from being excessive."

Pascagoula conference to be settled

Two football teams, two offensive powers, one conference championship. That's the problem facing Coach Barry Jones of the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws and Coach Bob Rogers of the Pass Christian Pirates as the two men bring their teams together Friday night in Rockchaw stadium to settle the big question of the Pascagoula River Conference Championship.

A win over the Pirates Friday night would throw the conference race into a two-way tie. The Pirates are presently undefeated and sporting a perfect 7-0 slate while the Rocks are 6-1 for the year, sustaining their one loss to St. Martin.

Both coaches profess mutual respect for each other and for the talent on the different benches. Both coaches realize emotions will play a big part in Friday's game.

"It's the type of ball game where a little mistake can mean the game," Jones said. "Both are fine football teams with very potent offenses," Jones added. "The Pass has scored 50 points or more at least in two of their games. Their best defense is their offense."

To win Friday night, Jones feels the Rocks must accomplish several key items; namely stop the triple option, avoid the little mental mistakes, and control the ball. "We feel like we have to keep the ball as much as we can and out of their hands," Jones said, adding that's what the Rocks were able to do very well last week in a 43-0 rout of Bay St. Louis.

Jones has no misgivings about the Pirates ability to play ball control football too though.

"Swanier runs the option exceptionally well. His throwing attack is aided by good ball control too. They'll lull you to sleep and then outthrow your receivers."

"The problem with the wishbone offense," Jones adds, "is that when they throw the ball it's usually a completion."

Although both teams possess explosive offensive ability, Jones sees a difference of philosophy in the two teams.

"They are more run oriented than we are," Jones says, "although they have had a great deal of success in their last two games throwing the ball."

Comparatively speaking the Pirates probably have a higher percentage of completions, since they have thrown the ball less, Jones says.

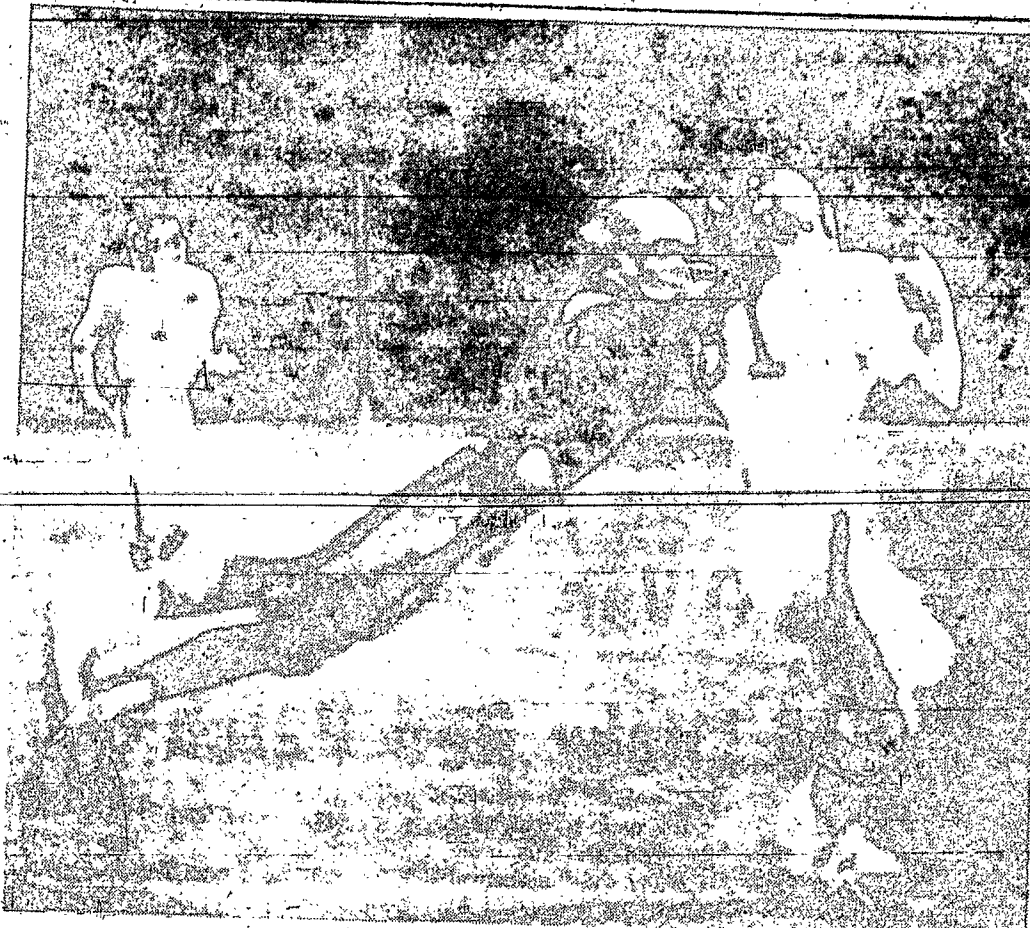

The Rocks on the other hand have shown an ability and inclination to pass the ball a great deal being blessed with two fine quarterbacks, David

Weir and Mike Graber. "We know what they are going to do," Jones said, adding that the Rocks had changed their practice schedule to the extent where drills were running a little longer.

Game time for the conference tilt is 7:30 p.m. at Rockchaw stadium.

In Southeast Asia alone, 100,000 children go blind each year as a result of lack of Vitamin A. The price of a small bag of potato chips or a candy bar - donated to UNICEF - can provide the Vitamin A capsules needed to protect three children from blindness for an entire year.

In 1974, UNICEF stipends helped to train over 86,000 child health and nutrition workers throughout the world.

SPORT TALK

By Charlie Henderson

QUESTION: What did Anthony Davis do against Notre Dame in 1972 to cause all the fuss over him?

ANSWER: Southern California's great runner became an instant star before a national TV audience by scoring 6 TD's against the Irish that year. Two came on electrifying kickoff returns of 97 and 96 yards. A.D. did it again (also on national TV) in 1974 with a 102-yard kickoff return to spark the Trojans to a come-from-behind win. Down at one time 24-0 SC went on to rout the Irish, 55-24, after Davis's great return.

QUESTION: How many games did Notre Dame win during the era of Ara Parseghian?

ANSWER: In the 11 years of Ara's era, Notre Dame won 94 games, lost only 17, and tied four. During that time Parseghian coached the Irish to three national championships.

QUESTION: Here's a quickie. Who holds the NFL rushing mark as a rookie?

ANSWER: San Diego Charger rookie Don Woods gained 1,162 yards in 1974 to break John Brockington's first-year rushing mark of 1,105 yards. Woods was a surprise performer...but there's no surprise about the performance you expect from the new FORD TRUCKS. The big surprise is how little it costs per month to own one. Come in and let's talk it over!

Echo forecasts

Rocks have bag of tricks ready for Pass

After last week's disastrous showing by the Echo forecasters (Barber 6-4, Loiacano 5-5, Mystery Man 5-5) the dubious threesome have vowed to expose the sources of their worthless and erroneous inside tips unless they start making us look better in the future.

With the crucial Stanislaus-Pass Christian match grabbing the spotlight locally this weekend there will probably be more tricks than treats for the older set.

Here's the way this week's games look to us:

GEORGE COUNTY AT BAY HIGH

BARBER - George County 37-6. Tigers don't have ghost of a chance.
LOIACANO - George Co. 40-6. Injuries will kill Bay chances.
MYSTERY MAN - Bay High 33-24. Have faith in the Tigers.

PASS AT ST. STANISLAUS

BARBER - Stanislaus 30-27. Hoda, Handshoe, and Treutel sack Swanier.

LOIACANO - Pass 21-20. Real toss up.
MYSTERY MAN - Stanislaus 28-26. Scaffie plus Negrotto makes difference.

HANCOCK AT NOTRE DAME

BARBER - Hancock 30-6. Hawks madder than a hornet.
LOIACANO - Hancock 28-21. Notre Dame inconsistent.
MYSTERY MAN - Hancock 19-14. Hawks should win it.

ALABAMA AT MISS. STATE (JACKSON)

BARBER - Ala. 40-6. No match.
LOIACANO - Ala. 31-7. Little contention.
MYSTERY MAN - Ala. 37-15. State tries.

LSU AT OLE MISS JACKSON
BARBER - Ole Miss 26-13. Rebs are improving.
LOIACANO - LSU 21-17. Tigers on a bet.

MYSTERY MAN - LSU 20-7. Rebs can't get offense together.

TULANE AT KENTUCKY

BARBER - Kentucky 10-7. Little interest.
LOIACANO - Kentucky 20-7. Wildcats stronger.

MYSTERY MAN - Tulane 14-7. Greenies win this one.

ATLANTA AT NEW ORLEANS

BARBER - Atlanta 24-10. No repeat of Saint's victory.
LOIACANO - Saints 17-14. Chalk another for the Saints.

MYSTERY MAN - Atlanta 30-14. Another roust.

Natalie Go Quick

Natalie Go Quick (No. 5) with Charlie Silkwood in the Irons beats Tail Win (No. 6) to the finish line in posting an upset Sunday at Oak Downs. Tail Win, owned by Elmo Harless of Hattiesburg, had won eight straight races until losing to Natalie Go Quick, owned by Harold Baudy of New Orleans. Ralph Shubert, aboard Tail Win, is the leading jockey at Oak Downs but won only one race Sunday while Silkwood posted seven victories on the 12-race program.

Marine O'Van upsets favored Lucky Red Patch

(Special to The Echo)

PEARL RIVER, LA. Marine O'Van, owned and trained by Bubby Patton of Bay St. Louis, upset favored Lucky Red Patch in a five-furlong match Sunday at Oak Downs.

Another Hancock County performer, Lightning Bar Tag, won the 350-yard first race over two opponents, Patty's Heart and Hold The Pickles. The mare, owned by Lesli Dedeaux and trained by Larry Favre, has been a consistent winner at Oak Downs in recent weeks.

In the closest race of the afternoon, another Dedeaux-Favre entry, Lady Bars Leo, lost by one-hundredth of a second in the 350-yard fifth race. The winner, Little Go Lite was timed in 19.61 seconds while Lady Bars Leo was clocked at 19.62.

Other highlights on the program were jockey Silkwood's seven victories out of 12 races and Natalie Go Quick's upset of Tail Win in the 300-yard 12th race. Tail Win had won eight straight races until falling Sunday.

Sunday's results:
1) 350 yards, Lightning Bar Tag, 19.505 seconds, Lesli Dedeaux, owner; Larry Favre, trainer; Charlie Silkwood, jockey. Patty's Heart, 19.81. Hold The Pickles, 20.35.
2) 440 yards, Fiber Test, 23.47, Randall Thompson, owner and trainer; Steve Roubion, jockey. Ring Bearer, 23.74.
3) 5 furlongs, Brazen Native, 1:06.72, Edward Patton, owner and trainer; Charlie Silkwood, jockey. Bashful Scholar, 1:07.38.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICES - A UNITED WAY AGENCY GIVES GUIDANCE AND ASSISTANCE TO FOSTER CHILDREN.

HOSPITALITY REGATTA-Bubby and Marc Eagan might as well have been sailing at Bay-Waveland last weekend, competing almost solely against each other as they dominated the twenty-four boat Open Scot fleet of the Hospitality Regatta at Jackson Yacht Club.

In the area known for light wind or none at all, the weather was generous with its chills and thrills for the three-race regatta.

Bubby Eagan with Woody Stieffel as his crew won the opening race Saturday, with Marc Eagan's second and Larry Taggart third. Then the brothers reversed positions as Marc won the second race with Ed Turnipseed crewing and Bubby finished second. Bubby gained a slight advantage over Marc at the start of the final race which he really had to work to maintain as Marc stayed within two boatlengths of the lead throughout the six legs of the course. The race ended with Bubby first, securing his overall first place, and Marc second, both boats about four minutes ahead of the third place yacht.

Larry Taggart finished third in the series, with Gene Walet fourth and Cran Fraser fifth.

Buzzy Heausler finished fifth in the Laser fleet at the Hospitality Regatta.

BLOXI SUNFISH REGATTA-Dennis Stieffel won all three races in the Junior Division of Bloxi's Fall Sunfish Regatta last weekend, to finish the series with a perfect score of 24 points.

Edgar Santa Cruz was second with 9; Robbie Schmidt third with 10.

The Senior Division was won by Theresa Holland with 64 points. Ann Stieffel was second with 62; Frank Mc-Connell third with 9.

BWYC FALL SUNFISH REGATTA-The Fifth Annual Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Fall Intraclub Sunfish Regatta will be held Nov. 1 and 2. All Sunfish owners should bring their boats to the Club for this great weekend of sailing fun. The Regatta is open to all BWYC members and there is a special class for everyone.

There will be three races in each class in addition to the final championship class. The top three sailors in each class will be eligible for the championship series.

Registration will take place Saturday morning from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. The Skippers Meeting will be at 9 a.m. The "A" Skippers first race will start promptly at 10 a.m. and will be immediately followed by the remaining two races of the series.

The start of the Ladies first race is scheduled for 11:30 a.m., Heavyweights 1 p.m., Juniors and Newcomers 2:30 p.m.

On Sunday morning the Tykes first race is scheduled for 11 a.m.; the Seniors start at 1 p.m. and the Championship will begin at 2 p.m.

This will be a fine series for spectators as all races will be conducted from the yacht club pier and the boats will be racing the small Sunfish course which is in excellent view from the Club.

Trophies for first, second and third place in each class and in the championship will be presented at the Annual BWYC Awards Banquet on Saturday, Nov. 8.

FROSTBITE REGATTA-Pass Christian Yacht Club will hold their Annual Frostbite Regatta November 8 and 9. Any skippers desiring to sail a BWYC Scot in the Frostbite can sign up on the Bulletin Board at the Club.

Flotilla offers course

A Boating Safety and Seamanship course will be presented this fall by Flotilla No. 33, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, Bay St. Louis.

The course which will detail basic boating information will be held at 7 p.m. each Tuesday, Nov. 11 through Dec. 16, at St. Stanislaus College.

Aids to navigation, rules of the road, charts and compasses, boating regulations, and marlin spike seamanship, are among the scheduled topics.

Other subjects will include boat handling, boat maneuvering, and safe small boat trailering practices.

Open to the public, further information may be obtained from Harry Chatham, vice commander elect, at 467-6287.

Pearl River fends off upset

POPLARVILLE - "It's the worst performance we have had all year," J. C. Arban said, after his Pearl River Wildcats had just managed to slip by the Northeast Tigers, 14-10 for their fifth win of the year.

"Why they didn't score 40 points on us I'll never know," the head coach said. "We just forgot about blocking and tackling." But anyone present for that first quarter would have thought the Wildcats were the ones about to score the lopsided victory. With only seven minutes gone in the initial stanza, PRC was leading 14-0.

However, one of the six pointers was set by way of an interception and the other came on a fantastic 44 yard run by Emerson Aborum; neither was a sustained offensive drive.

"I think we may have scored too early and too easily," Arban commented. "Our players knew Northeast had won only one contest during the year, and I think they were just a little over confident."

Thursday, Pearl River will travel to Southeast to take on the Bears in a southern conference clash. Southeast owns a 3-4-1 record, that includes a 22-2 tie last Saturday against northern conference power East Central. These same

East Central Warriors handed the Wildcats their 16-9 opening season loss.

"It's hard to believe the Bears have only won three games," Arban said. They have a very good team and they are getting better each week. Offensively the Summit crew is very similar to the Gulf Coast Bulldogs. They like to give the ball to the man in action, then crisscross and trap, scouting reports noted.

Offensive players of the week were Emerson Aborum, of Foxworth and Ed Porter of Jay St. Louis. Aborum scored one touchdown and racked up 131 yards for the night. Porter, serving as team captain, led the Wildcats at his offensive guard position.

Defensive stars from the Northeast game were Steve Moody of Hattiesburg; Steve Nagy of Petal and Larry Harvey of Columbia. All three were instrumental in stopping the Tigers at the Cats six yard line mid-way through the last quarter.

THE OPENING OF CIVIL ENGINEERING AND LAND SURVEYING OFFICE

LAND SURVEYING - MAPPING - TOPOGRAPHY
 SUBDIVISION - WATER AND SEWER SYSTEM.

426 CENTRAL AVE., WAVELAND 467-4828

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Notice is hereby given that all property owners residing in the flood prone areas as indicated on the Federal Insurance Administration Official Flood Hazard map on file in the office of Tax Assessor are required to obtain a Building Permit for any new construction or addition including Mobile Homes which are permanently affixed to their site.

Beginning November 1, 1975 all Building Permits for Hancock County will be issued thru the office of Tax Assessor at the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

The above notice is in compliance with Ordinance No. A-1 known as the Flood Protection Ordinance of Hancock County, Mississippi regulating land use and control measures for special flood hazard areas in conjunction with regulations established by the Federal Insurance Administration, Department of Housing and Urban Development, for maintaining Hancock County's eligibility in the National Flood Insurance Program as printed in the Federal Register on September 10, 1971. This ordinance was adopted by Hancock County Board of Supervisors as recorded in Minute Book B-4, Page 156; dated March 4, 1974 and amended September 3, 1974.

Those interested in making application for permits or in seeking information concerning permits should contact Yvonne Ladner at the Tax Assessor's office. Her telephone number is 467-5727.

Saving as much as you can on your monthly expenses is especially important these days. To help, you save on your next month's phone bill, we at South Central Bell have some suggestions:

- Save money on long distance calls by taking advantage of the new 1-Minute rates for all out-of-state One-Plus dialed calls. For example, every night from 11 P.M. to 8 A.M., all day Saturday, and Sunday until 5 P.M., a One-Plus dialed call to any other state in the U.S. (except Alaska and Hawaii) now costs only 22¢ or less plus tax for the first minute. And each additional minute is only 16¢ or less.
- Have all phone installations done at one time. Extra visits by an installer mean extra charges. If you plan all of your installations or phone changes in advance, you may save money.
- *Note: Low one-Plus rates do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, credit card, or collect calls, or to calls charged to another number including special billing numbers, because an operator must assist on such calls.

You can help prevent mistakes in handling your monthly telephone bill. Here are some ways: Be sure to include the payment card, and use the return envelope provided to mail it back. This way, your account can be credited promptly and you'll avoid the possibility of an unpaid balance on the next month's bill. Also, if your payment is less than the total bill, please indicate on the front of your payment card the amount you're enclosing.

Want to work with young people? The Girl Scouts are looking for volunteers... men and women who have a skill they would be willing to share for a few hours each month. The only qualifications needed is a sincere interest in young girls' futures. Teaching girls is a deepening self-awareness and helping them develop a sense of values can be very rewarding. For information on how you can volunteer, write to the Middle Mississippi Girl Scout Council at P.O. Box 22546, Jackson, Miss. 39205.

Chasing hurricanes keeps this meteorologist busy

Giant size welcome

Kathy Doster, daughter of Mrs. Betty R. Chapman of Long Beach, is working up a storm in Miami.

The 22-year-old Florida State University graduate is one of only 14 female meteorologists, works with the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) hurricane modification project, "Stormfury."

Recently, aboard a C-130, she flew in and out of the eye of Hurricane Gladys, and strapped in her seat wearing an intercom headset, calmly recorded data from her ice nucleus counter.

Dr. Robert C. Sheets, "Stormfury" project director, said Gladys was packing 140 mile an hour winds and was a "classic" hurricane.

According to Kathy, the 11 hour flight "was a lot smoother" than one taken the previous day. "We really took a beating on that one and I got a little nervous. But I love these flights. I learn something new every time and it will help me a great deal when I go back to school next year to get my master's degree," the petite strawberry-blond said.

Kathy said she decided to become a meteorologist when she returned to school following her "frightening encounter" with Hurricane Camille.

She said she was living in Long Beach at the time and when they issued the hurricane warnings we went to an elementary school shelter. "The roof was blown off the school and the cafeteria literally exploded from the pressure," she said. Kathy said the "real impact" of Camille "didn't hit me until the next morning when we left the shelter and saw all the damage."

Even though she chose a career in meteorology, Kathy admits that she never thought she'd work for the NOAA "and wind up flying into hurricanes."

She probably also never thought she would be asked to come to New York and tell her story on the national television program, "To Tell the Truth."

However, according to her grandmother Mrs. Gladys Chapman of Bay St. Louis, that is "exactly what she is doing!"

Pooch of the Week

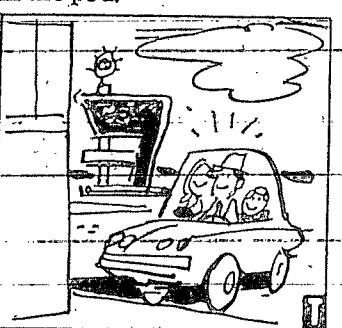

Allen, a very friendly, active, one-year-old male mixed collie, is an excellent watchdog who is eagerly awaiting a home to watch. Also available for adoption from the Bay-Waveland Humane Society are an 18-month-old female part setter, an eight-week-old blue tick puppy, and a 14-month-old male mixed retriever and shepherd. Information is available at 467-3739, 467-9236, and 467-7173.

BUDGET Stretching IDEAS

When shopping for food, save by buying convenience items. Because there's no waste, a can of peas can cost a third less than as many peas in the pod.

When traveling, go to where you get the most for your money. Parking, ice, television, cribs and spiritual counseling are all free at 1,700 Holiday Inns around the world. In addition, your children under 12 may be able to eat from a special menu and stay in your room for free if you don't need extra beds.

USM homecoming '75 moves to Gulf Coast

LONG BEACH. — The University of Southern Mississippi football team has been described, for the past two years, as the "road show," due to stadium renovation and having to play all games on the road.

Continuing the "road show" concept, Southern will move its 1975 Homecoming to the Gulf Coast, and hold this annual event on the USM-Gulf Park campus Nov. 21-22.

In the home-away-from-home context, only the place has changed according to homecoming planners. All the usual activities will be available, plus those that will be added due to homecoming on the Gulf Coast.

The Golden Eagles will be host to California State at Fullerton in a Nov. 22 meeting in Memorial Stadium in Biloxi at 7:30 p.m.

Prior to gametime, things get underway on Friday evening, Nov. 21, on the Gulf Park campus with a meeting of the USM Foundation Board of Directors followed by the general foundation meeting.

At this time student organizations will be decorating the Gulf Park campus in the same manner that the Hattiesburg campus is usually decorated. Some ten groups have indicated they plan to place decorations on the Gulf Park campus, or in the stadium at Biloxi.

Saturday gets underway early with an alumni executive breakfast at the Downtownier in Gulfport, registration, class reunions, a dutch luncheon and the annual alumni business meeting on the Gulf Park campus. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m.

In the afternoon the scene shifts to the east and the opening of fraternity open house suites at the Sheraton Biloxi and a Panhellenic Tea at the Top of the Sheraton, all starting around 2:30 p.m.

Moving further east the Harrison County Alumni Chapter will be host to an open house and a Seafood Jam-boree at the Buena Vista. The open house begins at 4 p.m. with the jamboree to follow. The kick-off for the homecoming game will be at 7:30 p.m. preceded by the usual queen-crowning and festivities.

Ending the day will be the homecoming dance at the Biloxi Sheraton, 10:30 p.m. - 1:30 a.m.

A contest is currently underway for student organizations to select a general theme for the Coast homecoming.

Hotels and motels along the Coast are making special rates and package plans, all pointing to a big Golden Eagle weekend for Homecoming.

Information about homecoming and special hotel and motel rates may be obtained by writing the USM Alumni Office.

HOW TO KEEP A HUSBAND...HAPPY

Are you every other, inch a loving wife?

Try these tips on rekindling your old flame.

1. Praise his intelligence. Let him know you respect him, and it might help him prove he's worthy of your respect.

2. Be pretty. Never feel guilty about spending some time and money on beautifying yourself.

3. Get away from it all, together. Take your husband to one of the world's 1,700 Holiday Inns and enjoy good entertainment, good food, good service and a good night-life. Ask for the bridal suite.

Try it more than once, and you'll probably have a marriage for better, not worse.

DO YOU HAVE A DRINKING PROBLEM?

Help is available through Alcoholics Anonymous for the problem drinker, and through Al-Anon for his or her family.

Call 467-6414 for AA and Al-Anon information. Al-Anon meets Mondays 8:00 P.M., St. Augustine Seminary cafeteria.
